ENGLAND-VANCOUVER SERVICE BY AIRPLANE LOOMS FOR 1938

Canadian Services In 1937

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—An All-British air mail and passenger service between England and the Pacific coast of Canada by 1938, a trans-Canada air service to be established as soon as possible, establishment of a transportation commission in place of the present Board of Railway Commissioners, and early consideration of the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways, were envisioned here today by Hon. C. D. Howe, transport minister.

Speaking at a luncheon gathering of the Canadian Club, his appearance coinciding with the announcement at Ottawa of formal inauguration of the new department of transport, Mr. Howe told something of the vast public interest involved in the merger of the railway, canals, marine, civil aviation, radio and meteorological services of the government.

LONG OVERDUE

"In the field of civil aviation," the minister said, "steps are now being taken to set up a transcontinental service for passengers and mails. This is a development that is overdue. While Canada has an enviable record for transportation of mail, passengers and freight by air in districts not served by other forms of transport, it is behind most countries in providing air services along the main arteries of travel.

28 CANDIDATES NOMINATED FOR CITY ELECTION

Five to Contest Mayoralty and 16 Seeking Aldermanic Board Seats

Reported to be a record high, 28 nominations from candidates who will contest the November 12 municipal elections were filed with City Clerk Alfred Russell, returning officer, between 11 a.m. and 12 o'clock noon, Monday, nomination day. This figure does not include the three nominations for the three vacancies on the Separate School Board, these candidates being elected by acclamation.

Five candidates will contest the mayoralty race, 16 the aldermanic and three the Public School Board. Two "dark horses" filed nominations, but one was rejected. Amer Stimmel, auctioneer, handed in his papers as an Independent mayoralty candidate but owing to the fact he did not possess the required property or business assessment qualifications, his nomination was refused by Returning Officer Russell when Stimmel failed to file a property qualification certificate signed by City Assessor Thomas Walker.

DARK HORSE

The other "dark horse" is Hugh Critchlow, who has been nominated by the United People's League as a candidate for the Public School Board. He is a substitute for Clifford Lee, who was originally nominated but who withdrew owing to the fact he did not hold the necessary property qualifications.

For the mayoralty race, the

REBEL PLANES HARRY MADRID; REDS RETREAT

Sky Warriors Make 18th Raid on Capital and Suburbs

MADRID, Nov. 2—Insurgent warplanes, making their 18th visit to the environs of besieged Madrid, killed three children and injured eight adults with bombs today in the suburban village of Vallecas.

Eight bombs were dropped.

The warning sirens wailed through the streets of Madrid at 8:30 a.m., but the Fascist planes apparently turned back. They did not bomb the capital.

Earlier, military authorities acknowledged that the "zero hour" in the fatte of Madrid had arrived as wavering government forces, their offensive admittedly smashed, retreated on the capital.

The insurgent command reported at least 500 government troops were killed in the offensive and in a futile counter attack.

The retreating government forces blew up roads and bridges to stem the insurgent advance toward Mad-

SEA RECEIVES BRITTEN'S BODY

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 2.—Commodore Sir Edgar Britten, commander of the super-liner Queen Mary, who died suddenly Wednesday, sailed his last voyage yesterday to a final resting place in a choppy sea.

Through a heavy mist, the coffin containing the master's body was borne from church services to the tender Calshot, in the harbor berth of the British queen of the seas.

At aa sharp command from the Calshot's bridge, the tender slowly moved out into the fog. Three miles from shore the coffin was lowered into the waves.

Japanese Torture Trio Tars

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2—Details of the alleged "fingernail torture" of three British sailors by Japanese police were disclosed today by British naval officials here.

The officials said a fountain pen was jammed under the fingernails of one sailor and then ink forced into the wounds to make him sign a "confession" sought by the Japanese.

AN "INCIDENT"

The incident, which caused Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Little, commanding on the China station, to postpone a visit to Japan, occurred at Keelung, Formosa, Oct. 7.

According to British naval officers, three seamen from British naval craft then stationed at Keelung were arrested by Japanese police for alleged non-payment of a taxicab fare.

Upon protesting, British officers here said, the three sailors were pinned down by four Japanese police and beaten in the face by additional Japanese plain clothesmen to "persuade" them to sign a confession of their refusal to pay the taxicab fare and also of resisting the police.

At the height of the assault, British officials said, Lieutenant T. C. Packersford of the flotilla leader Bruce arrived on the scene and requested that the sailors be released.

In the course of the argument, it

PRELIMINARY HEARING OPEN AT STETTLER

Emmanuel Ernest Faces Charge of Murdering George Pogmore

STETTLER, Nov. 2.—Emmanuel Ernest, former hired man on the farm of George Pogmore of Byemoor, was the first to face preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering Pogmore on October 18, before Magistrate W. Gray, Monday morning.

Chrisian Maude Pogmore, wife of the murdered man, will also face trial as an accessory before the fact but her hearing will follow that of Ernest.

J. J. FRAWLEY PROSECUTING

J. J. Frawley, K.C., is prosecuting for the crown, J. R. McClure, Red Deer, is defence counsel for Ernest and R. F. Jackson, Edmonton, for Mrs. Pogmore.

Pogmore is alleged to have been shot and instantly killed by a person firing from outside the window of his home, while he was playing cards, Mr. Frawley told the court.

Mr. Frawley outlined what the crown alleged had been the associations between Ernest, commonly nick-named "Happy," and the Pogmore family, particularly Mrs. Pogmore. These associations were said to have led ultimately to the conspiracy and murder of Pogmore.

MRS. POGMORE CALLED

Mrs. Pogmore, a small, slim woman of about 30 years of age, was first called to the witness stand. She appeared nervous, and the crown dispensed with her evidence when Defence Counsel Jackson objected that she was also charged and was not in fit condition to testify.

Dr. A. D. Bumes, of Castor, who said he had performed an autopsy upon Pogmore, testified that death was caused by a wound from a bullet which pierced the skull and entered the brain. Part of the bullet was recovered and identified.

Premier Says He's Not Quitting Helm

That he has no intention of resigning and intends to see Social Credit through, in spite of all opposition, even if it takes five years, was the declaration of Premier William Aberhart, in addressing the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference at the Strand theatre Sunday evening.

The premier, who was greeted by a capacity audience, declared that "The latest rumors inform us that every method known to political propagandists is to be used against us.

"They say I am to be disgraced, made a laughing stock and put into the discard.

WON'T BE FIRST

"Well, if such is to be my fate I shall have this comfort, that I shall not be the first that has gone that way."

The premier referred to reports of his recent Coronation speech.

Mike Calls North Meet

M. A. "MIKE" MAHONEY, famous northerner has called a meeting of Sourdoughs which will probably be held at Toronto in August, 1937. He is best remembered as the man who inspired Robert W. Service's poem, "The Cremation of Sam McGee."

SOURDOUGHS TO REUNITE NEXT YEAR IN EAST

Mike Mahoney Will Be One of Leading Figures Attending

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—A gathering of old-timers that was a reunion in itself, last night laid plans for the rush of sourdoughs expected here for a stampede about Aug. 20, 1937.

M. A. "Mike" Mahoney is largely responsible for the fact the re-union will be held here. Mahoney left his home near Ottawa at the age of 17 with $3 in his pocket to seek his fortune in the Klondike 40 years ago.

He is best remembered as the man who carried the body of Judge Humes, former Mayor of Seattle, from Fairbanks to civilization by dog team, for which Seattle citizens donated a $10,000 collection.

In all he travelled 400 miles from Fairbanks to Skagway.

Mahoney is also said to have witnessed the shooting of the immortal Dan McGrew, and that from his exploits Robert Service conceived the idea for his "Cremation of Sam McGee."

LAKE BOATS UNREPORTED

FORT McMURRAY, Nov. 2.—The Hudson's Bay Company boats Canadusa and Pelly Lake, and the chartered Saskalta Queen, owned by Russ Denholm and Capt. Williscroft are unreported since their departure from Waterways for Poplar Point, Goldfields and Fond Du Lac early last Thursday morning.

Reports from Goldfields and Chipewyan indicate that the lake is fast freezing up and it is doubtful that the boats will be able to complete their trip.

Another chartered boat, the Petrel, owned by McLeod has been unreported since leaving Goldfields for Chipewyan about two weeks ago after freighting supplies for the Hudson's Bay Company.

6 Women Eligible In Derby

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—As far as child bearing is concerned, Toronto's famous "stork derby" came to an end Saturday at 4:30 p.m. All that remains to be done is for one of the many mother entrants to prove she has had more children than the others in the 10-year period—October 31, 1926, to October 31, 1936.

It will be some time, however, before the winner or winners is decided upon. Claims and counter claims as between the chief contestants and court actions, one by relatives of Millar seeking to upset the will's terms, will take up a lot of time before the estate executors can make their decision.

FAILED TO ARRIVE

Three of the leading entrants had expected to add to their totals before the deadline but Mrs. Grace Bagnato, Mrs. Martin Kenny and Mrs. Peter Romas all were disappointed. The expected infants failed to arrive.

Chief contenders appear to be six mothers, each of whom, it is claimed, have nine eligible registered children. They are Mrs. Isobel MacLean, Mrs. Arthur Timleck, Mrs. Matthew Kenny, Mrs. John Nagle, Mrs. Pauline Clark and Mrs. Alfred Smith.

Triplets were born here a few hours before the deadline of the baby race to Mrs. William Wright, but she has no chance of sharing in the reward. She has borne a total of 12 children, but only five are eligible under the terms of the will.

KING TO OPEN BRITISH HOUSE SANS CONSORT

Master of Horse to Accompany Him — Political Uniforms Banned

LONDON, Nov. 2. — The King tomorrow opens parliament in state. It will be the first time His Majesty has addressed the two houses since his accession.

As there is no consort, it is understood the Duke of Beaufort, master of the horse, will ride with him in the state coach from Buckingham palace to Westminster. The coach is the one in which King George V. rode to his coronation.

HEAVY PROGRAM

Parliament faces a heavy program of work. Its domestic program includes:

Legislation to prevent disorders at public meetings and to regulate the wearing of political uniforms. This is the sequel to recent Fascist-Communist rioting in London. But the problem is no easy one. The law regarding the holding of public meetings at present is shrouded in obscurity. Legal decisions to a certain extent conflict.

SOME DIFFICULTY

The difficulty is to ensure on the one hand that the public meeting won't be turned into a bear garden, and on the other to take care that nothing is done to restrict freedom of speech. It is suggested that Sir John Simon, home secretary, may propose legislation along two lines:

1—Prohibition of political uniforms, possibly through selective order-in-council.

2—Discretionary powers to police to close prescribed areas to political demonstrations.

While the Fascists at present are the chief street demonstrators in uniform, legislation will be aimed at extremists of both wings.

Neither Communists nor Fascists, however, so far have made anything approaching a deep impression on the political life of Britain. The legendary man in the street takes little more than an academic interest in the conflict between the two extremes. He prefers the middle path of democracy.

Eagle, Dog, Man Engage In Fight

CALGARY, Oct. 31—A battle between an eagle, dog and man ended in victory for William Davison. He caught the eagle, which had a wing spread of 6 feet 10 inches, by hand, but not his bare hands. He wore gloves. The bird died shortly after its capture.

DARING BANDIT GETS $160 IN BAR HOLD-UP

Leland Hotel Beer Parlor Robbed At Closing Saturday

One of the most daring hold-ups in local police history was recorded shortly after 10 p.m. Saturday, when a lone masked bandit walked into the Leland hotel beer parlor, stopped R. E. "Bob" Noble and Reg. Lee at the point of a gun, and emptied the cash register of $160, the day's takings in the bar.

Several men consuming the last of their beer, were in the bar room at the time, but were not aware of the hold-up until the bandit raced through the rotunda front and escaped in a waiting car.

It was reported that some 12 people were in the rotunda of the hotel when the masked bandit raced through. One of the men gave chase, but was unable to catch the robber. The car lights were extinguished and it was impossible to distinguish the license number.

The bandit was described as being about 26 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, 5 feet 7 inches tall, clean-shaven, slight English accent. He was wearing a light cloth overcoat, grey donegal tweed cap, and a light suit. A black mask partly covered his face and he carried a black automatic revolver.

40 Injured When Communists Battle

NICE, France, Nov. 2.—Forty persons were injured, two gravely, in rioting when Communists massed in a counter-demonstration against a meeting of 6,000 of their opponents last night.

CHAMBERY, France, Nov. 2.—Five Italians, including Charles Soardi, consul at Chambery, were attacked by Communists after a Fascist meeting here yesterday. Several other persons were injured.

Alberta Man Weds N.Y. Society Girl

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The wedding took place quietly here Saturday of Miss Jeanne Bernard of New York to Donald Mulholland Blow of Galway, Alta.

The bride is daughter of Robert W. Bernard, prominent New York lawyer, and of Mrs. Louise C. Bernard.

After the ceremony, performed at the Fifth Avenue residence of the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Blow left for Alberta by automobile.

English, French Papers Allege Grave Misdeeds

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Germany and Italy were held responsible by the French press today for the overthrow of the government of Iraq. The Near East has become the theatre of Italo-German intrigue against British influence, the Echo De Paris declared.

"It can be asked," the Echo De Paris suggested, "if the hand of Hitlerite Germany, very prompt to use Arab resentment against the pro-Jewish policy of certain English elements, is not found to a certain degree behind the coup d'etat which has just overthrown the Anglophile government at Baghdad."

Writing in L'Oeuvre, Genevieve Tabous declared Britain's rearmament was regarded by Rome and Berlin as a danger which must be "stopped at any price." "The revolution which has just burst in Iraq and which is supremely anti-English did not develop fortuitously," she asserted.

British Papers Echo Sentiment

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Germany and Italy are behind the revolt which forced a cabinet change in Iraq last Thursday, the Labor newspaper, Daily Herald, said today. The Herald attributed its statement to an "eminent Palestine Arab."

Pasha Askari Said Murdered

CAIRO, Nov. 2.—Informed sources here today alleged that General Jaffar Pasha El Askari, minister of defence in the deposed cabinet and "strong man" of Iraq, was murdered Saturday at the instigation of Italian and German agents working here. Leaders loyal to the British rule alleged that "foreign powers had been spreading the seeds of dissension here for some time.

YOUNG MINER IS REPORTED AS IMPROVED

Not Necessary to Send Plane to Yellowknife for Jim Parres

Jim Parres, young assayer at the Burwash-Yellowknife mining camp, on Yellowknife bay, at the north side of Great Slave lake, passed a restful night, Sunday night, it was reported by radio Monday morning.

His last heart attack was at 6 p.m. Sunday, which showed a decided improvement from Friday and Saturday nights, when he had taken a slight turn for the worse.

Although Pilot Rudy Huess, Canadian Airways was planning to make a flight from Fort Smith to Yellowknife at the week-end to bring him in, reports have indicated that it will not be necessary for him to take the risk which flying at this time entails.

LAKES NOT SAFE

As soon as conditions permit, Pilot Heuss will make the flight but at present the lakes between Fort Smith and Yellowknife are not frozen sufficiently well to permit intermediate landings.

Clearing Of Slums Now Ottawa's Aim

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Slum clearance is one of the major problems to which the government will turn its attention very soon, it was learned here today.

Back from his trip to Geneva and Great Britain, Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, plunged into the activities of his department and explained to questioners it was soon to discuss the nature of the proposals he would submit to his colleagues in the cabinet to deal with the slums in the larger Canadian cities.

The government is expected to take the position it has no jurisdiction which would enable it to take over the slum areas itself and erect working men's houses. That is regarded as the responsibility of the municipal councils and after them the provincial governments.

The dominion is likely to offer assistance in a financial way and perhaps in furnishing expert advice as to construction.

RADIO PRIEST APOLOGIZES TO ROOSEVELT

Rev. Charles Coughlin Had Referred to President As "Scab"

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Canadian-born priest, who has been campaigning against the Roosevelt administration, has publicly apologized for having called Franklin D. Roosevelt a "scab president."

"I wish to close this campaign," he said in an address Saturday night, "by apologizing for any hurt which such words have done his person."

The priest's original assertion was made in a speech at Cleveland last Monday in which he called Mr. Roosevelt the "scab president" and asserted the WPA was the "greatest army of scab labor in the history of civilization."

Last night he termed WPA the "largest army ever regimented at less than a living wage," and said it was supporting President Roosevelt.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—The Detroit News today quoted Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, superior of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, as saying in an interview last night that the Royal Oak priest's newest apology to President Roosevelt came at the Bishop's "suggestion."

The News also quoted Bishop Gallagher as saying that it is "entirely possible" action will be taken to curtail Fr. Coughlin's political activities after next Tuesday's United States election.

TO SAVE SEAT FOR ALD. CRANG

Due to the fact that Ald. Margaret Crang has not attended city council meetings over a three-month period during the past year, Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., announced Monday that a special meeting of council would be called for 5 p.m. next Thursday to give the lady alderman an opportunity to meet charter requirements. The charter provides that a councillor missing meetings over this period of time automatically loses his or her seat.

Thursday's meeting, however, will give Miss Crang her required number of meetings, and save her seat on the council. She was elected in 1935 for a two-year term.

HOUDINI FAILS TO KEEP TRYST FROM GRAVE

MAGICIAN'S WIFE TURNS OUT LIGHT AGLOW 10 YEARS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 2.—The light that burned for 10 years above a photograph of the late Houdini was darkened today, and his widow, Mrs. Beatrice Houdini, said she has abandoned hope of contacting the spirit of the great magician, who died Oct. 31, 1926.

Saturday night, on the tenth anniversary of his passing, Mrs. Houdini staged a final seance on the roof of a Hollywood hotel in what she said was a last effort to communicate with him.

NOTHING HAPPENED

After 30 minutes of tearful pleading over a public address system, she cried:

"He has not come. I turn out the light."

More than 200 persons were seated facing a long table. Grouped on either side of the table was a horseshoe of 12 persons, "the inner circle."

The apex of the horseshoe was the table, behind which stood the picture of Houdini, with a small electric light burning above it. Mrs. Houdini said the light had never been out in the 10 years since his death.

TO REACH OTHER

The substance of the seance was delivered by Edward Saint, bald, bewhiskered associate of Mrs. Houdini. He said she and the magician had agreed the first to meet death would try to reach the other from beyond the grave. A pre-arranged message in code was memorized by each.

Saint began to speak. He described Houdini's life at length. Then he said, solemnly:

"Please now make yourself known to us."

There was a moment of comparative silence. From below came the sound of a saxophone sobbing. A mascaraed movie actress, swathed to the ears in furs, noisily scratched a match for a cigarette.

Saint's voice hit a tremolo as he spoke of Houdini's love for his wife. Tears flowed down his face. Then he asked Mrs. Houdini to call her husband.

HE HAS NOT COME

She rose. Saint bent low. "Mrs. Houdini speaks," he murmured into the microphone, which magnified the sibilant whisper into a roar. Mrs. Houdini called out, and then waited. Saint asked:

"Have you reached a decision, Mrs. Houdini?"

"He has not come," she said. "I turn out the light."

Wouldn't Even Reply To M.P.

LONDON, Nov. 2—The ghost of Houdini wouldn't answer a member of parliament.

Harry Day, Labor member for Southwark, conducted a seance on the 10th anniversary of the death of his old friend, saying it was the fulfilment of a pact between them.

"I am still keeping an open mind on the subject," Day said after his unsuccessful attempt to communicate with Houdini.

"I kept my part of the bargain anyway."

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—Theo Hardeen tried to communicate with his dead brother, Harry Houdini, the master magician, through a medium Saturday night, and pronounced the result "entertaining" but unsuccessful.

C.P.R. OFFICER TAKES UP NEW DUTIES HERE

J. Ivan MacKay Succeeds J. L. Palethorpe as Superintendent

J. Ivan MacKay, formerly superintendent of C.P.R. lines operating out of Calgary, arrived in Edmonton Sunday to assume his new duties as superintendent for his company of this territory. He succeeds J. L. Palethorpe who has been transferred to the superintendent's office at Medicine Hat.

HAS LONG CAREER

Mr. MacKay has had a long and glamorous railway career. He came west from Nova Scotia and became call boy in a C.P.R. office to begin an association with that organization that has now extended for more than 32 years. He has occupied such varied posts as telegraph operator, chief clerk in transportation department, chief clerk to general superintendent, assistant superintendent, car service agent, and finally superintendent at Winnipeg, Regina, Nelson, Vancouver and Calgary.

"Although this is the first time I have had the privilege of working out of Edmonton" the new superintendent said, "I anticipate with a great deal of pleasure the duties I am now called upon to assume."

BUSINESS BETTER

He added that there has been a noticeable quickening of business since the C.P.R. put into operation its new streamlined train, and admitted that there has been no abatement of interest on the part of Calgary citizens in the new equipment. He asserted that crowds still gather in the stations daily to see the arrival of the famed speedster.

CANUCK FIRMS SEEK WARRANT

LONDON, Nov. 2.—King George V's butcher, and baker, and candlestick maker are to find out soon whether they'll supply goods to King Edward VIII.

Although a Bond street or Saville Row shop covets the Royal warrant as the hallmark of its goods, relatively unknown concerns enjoy it as well.

In the tiny village near Balmoral, the King's highland seat, half a dozen small stores display the Royal lion and unicorn as proudly as those of London's west end. Concerns supplying the King's Canadian ranch in Alberta have his warrant as Prince of Wales.

POPPY CAMPAIGN SUPPORT URGED

An urgent appeal for support of the poppy sale campaign now in progress was made Monday by C. S. Kilgour, honorary secretary of the poppy fund, in explaining that increased subscriptions were necessary if the appeal were to reach its objective of $3,000.

The sale of wreaths is now proceeding, he explained, and any individual or business firm anxious to procure one may do so by contacting any member of the executive committee.

A special part of the Commemoration Day ceremonies, to take place at the Cenotaph on Wednesday, November 11, will be devoted to the placing of these wreaths at the memorial, he added.

Assisting the Canadian Legion members in the poppy sale drive are the War Widows' Association, Edmonton Council of Jewish Women, Ex-Service Women's Association, and the Catholic Women's League.

MOLLISON NOT DEPARTING FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Flier Sure He Can Cut Record He'd by Estranged Wife

LONDON, Nov. 2—Capt. James Mollison announced today he will not take off for several days on his attempt to better the London-Capetown record set last May by his estranged wife, Amy Johnson Mollison.

The flier arrived at Croydon airport from Edinburgh yesterday in a plane piloted by Capt. Bebb, whom he has selected as co-pilot for his dash to the Cape.

Mollison dined at Edinburgh with his mother. He later attended a party given by his actress friend, Dorothy Ward, for whom he named the plane in which he made his record flight from Harbor Grace, Nfld., to Croydon last Friday.

Capt. Bebb joined the Royal Air Force in 1921 and became a Sergeant-pilot five years later. After serving as pilot with Southern Aircraft Ltd., he joined Alan Cobham and toured South America.

Mollison is confident his powerful monoplane "Dorothy" will cover the 6,000 miles to Capetown in less than 40 hours. His wife covered the distance in 78 hours and 28 minutes.

NOT RESIGNING, PREMIER TELLS BIG AUDIENCE

tard plasters applied, But I adjusted my glasses and read my notes.

"My notes said it was absolutely necessary for our people to learn to use their own credit if they wished to get freedom from economic bondage.

"I continued, 'If you refuse to realize the truth of this matter, and do not try to use your own Alberta credit, no one on earth can help you, I might as well throw up my hands,'—meaning I could do nothing for them.

"I did say the words 'throw up my hands' but I did not say I was going to throw up my hands.

"I have no intention of throwing up my hands. I am persuaded that even if we cannot carry out our program as fully as we should like in 18 months, I have even then no right to quit.

"We have made some headway. We are making further strides to the great reform. It takes time. And although the Liberal leaders think they would get into power if we resigned, we should not consider any such action until, with all the terrific opposition, we have had sufficient time to reach our goal.

"It amuses me sometimes to hear some criticize Social Credit because it gives something for nothing and then object when we require registration of all who covenant to co-operate.

"We fully realize that we cannot issue dividends to increase our standard of living unless our production warrants it. If any citizen who is physically fit to work or co-operate in our corporate endeavor to increase production, he of necessity must be barred from receiving any benefit from our common endeavor. Hence the registration of all willing to co-operate is essential.

BOTH MISQUOTED

"I am sorry," he said, "two of our government members were misquoted by the press last week. Mr. Fallow did not attack ministers of the church and Dr. Cross did not say we intended to introduce Social Credit by force.

"I see the 'Voice of the Church' is intending to attack the covenants signed by 80 per cent of our citizens. It seems to me it is too late to criticize them now.

"I wonder if these good men would like the details of the administration of their churches dragged into public criticism.

NEVER GO BACK

"I should judge that it must be much easier to administer and organize the affairs of a congregation of from 800 to 1000 people with the Christian spirit than to handle a population of 780,000 of all classes with bitter political opponents doing everything to hinder.

"I am satisfied people will never go back to the old line parties, nor to any fusion of them."

Answering a letter on Fascism, the premier said, "I am favorable to individual enterprise and freedom of the individual. I believe that the state exists to serve the individual and not the individual to serve the state. The former is true democracy; the latter is Fascism."

Bishop Dedicates Three Memorials At Sunday Service

Three memorials were dedicated by Rt. Rev. A. E. Burgett, Bishop of Edmonton, in a special service at St. Peter's Anglican church Sunday. Rev. F. S. Tackaberry, rector, had charge of the service.

A reredos, in memory of Adela Matilda Copp, who was the wife of Capt. Wilfred Baker of that parish, was given by Capt. Baker and his three children, Winifred, May and Wilfred.

In memory of Randall Vincent Plumb, former vestryman of St. Peter's, a credence table was given by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Plumb of Stony Stratford, England.

A desk prayer book was given by Mrs. George Lloyd of Stockton-in-Forest, England, in memory of her husband, George Lloyd, who was chairman of the Laymen of the National Assembly, in England.

Mr. Graham Campbell, vestryman of St. Peter's, is a brother of Mrs. Lloyd.

Boy, Two, Accidentally Hangs Himself in Auto

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Two-year-old Richard Bowman accidentally hanged himself Saturday night from a rear window of his father's car while his parents were shopping.

So sudden and silent was the accident that the child's three-year-old sister, Betty, also in the back seat of the car, did not know it had occurred. Pedestrians passing the car on a well-lighted street failed to notice the lad's plight.

Paul apparently turned down the window of the car while standing on the seat. He put his head through and then lost his footing. His breath was immediately cut off at the throat, physicians believed, and he could not cry out.

Civic Youth Association has entered Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., who is seeking re-election after two years in office. The other four contestants are J. M. Douglas, Citizens' Committee; H. D. Ainlay, United People's League, and Ald. R. E. Foote and F. J. Speed, Independents.

The 16 aldermanic candidates are running on the following slates: Civic Youth Association, one; Citizens' Committee, 5; Independents, 4; Social Credit 3; United People's League, 3.

The Citizens' Committee has entered three candidates for the Public School board; Social Credit party, 2, and the United People's League, 2.

ONE S. S. VACANCY

There is one South Side vacancy on city council this year, and the South Side candidate receiving the highest vote total will officially represent this portion of the city. Other South Side candidates who may be elected will thus represent the city at large.

Returning Officer Russell announced Monday those deciding to withdraw their nominations must file written notice of such action with him before 10 a.m., Tuesday, November 3. If this is not done, names of those withdrawing will appear on the ballot papers despite the fact they are not contesting the elections.

Too Many Bachelors

FAUST, Nov. 2.—Clarence Iden jubilantly told his Italian bachelor neighbor about the arrival of his first-born. "Is it a man or woman?" the Italian asked. "It's a man baby," he was told. "Bah!" the neighbor exploded. "There's too many bachelors already."

'Flu Mask Law

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Nov. 2.—Research workers delving into the city's archives have discovered that the 1913 ordinance limiting auto speed to 15 miles an hour and the 1918 ordinance requiring all citizens to wear influenza masks are still in effect.

that Pilot Heuss might be forced to attempt the flight immediately, Dr. C. G. Geggie, who has been instructing Bruce Marshall, Canadian Airways radio operator at Yellowknife, in his care, sent word as to medicines which the pilot should take from Fort Smith.

FURTHER TREATMENT

On Monday morning, Dr. Geggie gave Fred Barron, airway company operator in Edmonton, lengthy instructions for further treatment of Parres. They will give mustard or other poultices on his back and chest and other care.

Bruce Marshall reported that, when the attacks come on, Parres becomes blue in the face and the doctor gave him instructions for care under these conditions.

CABINET WILL PROBE MURDER

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—The second last chapter of a drama which commenced over two years ago with the murder of Constable Gisborne of the R.C.M.P. in British Columbia will be written tomorrow when the cabinet reviews the death sentences imposed upon three Indian brothers, Eneas, Richardson and Alex George.

The supreme court Friday refused the application of the brothers for a new trial, in that respect upholding the decision of the supreme court of British Columbia.

The Bulletin is informed that the sentence of Alex George, a cripple, will be commuted to life imprisonment and that in the cases of Richardson and Eneas the death penalty will be carried out.

MAJOR GEORGE DIES AT COAST

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 2.—Well known in Edmonton and other parts of Alberta, where he had engaged in ranching for several years, Major Francis William Brownlow George, who died here last week, was cremated over the week-end at Vancouver, B.C.

The late Major George came to Canada from England in 1891 and after a few months at Victoria, B.C., went to Macleod, Alberta, where he took up ranching. He engaged in ranching for several years until the outbreak of war when he went overseas with the 46th Battalion, serving at Ypres, the Somme, and Vimy Ridge and attaining the rank of major. Invalided home in October, 1918, he went to Victoria and has resided here since until his death last week.

In 1896 Major George married Grace Evelyn Casey, daughter of Inspector Casey of the Mounted Police, who survives him, as well as two sons and one daughter. Eric Hereford in Honolulu, and Richard Brownlow and Alice Evelyn at the family residence, 1310 Dallas road, Victoria.

Major George was born at Oxford, England on December 7, 1872, the son of Rev. Hereford Brooks George, M.A. He received his education at Clifton, Winchester College and at New College, Oxford, where his father was a Fellow for fifty-six years.

Community Leagues Federation Annual Meeting Thursday

The Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues, will hold its annual meeting on Thursday next, in the school board office, Civic block, at 8 p.m. when the election of officers, committees and appointees to city board will take place.

A special feature will be an address on parent-teacher organization, by Dr. G. W. Kerby, president of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Association, and president of the Mount Royal Junior College, Calgary. A special invitation is extended to all teachers to be present.

J. T. J. Collisson, K.C., Addresses Kiwanians

Disclaiming any attempt to present a connected narrative dealing with his recent trip to Europe, J. T. J. Collisson, K.C., contented himself while addressing the Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon at the Macdonald hotel Monday with citing a few personal reminiscenses of his summer trip overseas.

The speaker emphasized the sustained activity now marking British industry, and attributed this remarkable increase in employment and industrial output to the building program now proceeding in Great Britain. He said that there was no apparent unemployment on a large scale, although the living costs were much higher than in Canada.

C.Y.A. HOLDS OWN MEETINGS FOR CAMPAIGN

Mayor Clarke and Others Will Speak at North and South Side Gatherings

Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., who is seeking re-election on the Civic Youth Association's ticket, and other candidates on the same slate will speak at special civic election campaign meetings arranged for by the C.Y.A., commencing Tuesday night. These are additional to the regular campaign meetings.

All gatherings will be addressed by the mayor and E. E. Howard, C.Y.A. aldermanic candidate, while George O'Leary, Independent aldermanic candidate, and nominees of the Social Credit party, both aldermanic and school board, have also been invited to address the meetings—having been endorsed by the C.Y.A.

Ald. W. W. Clevely, who was elected on the C.Y.A. ticket last year and who has another term in office, will speak in support of the slate, while S. McCoppin, supporter of the ticket, will be heard at South Side meetings.

Full list of the association's meetings follows:

Tuesday, Nov. 3—Calgary Trail Community Hall, Walterdale Community Hall.

Thursday, Nov. 5—Garneau Community Hall, Scona Assembly Hall.

Friday, Nov. 6—Calder Community Hall, Alberta Avenue Community Hall.

Monday, Nov. 9 — Westmount Community Hall, Jasper Place school.

Tuesday, Nov. 10—Forest Heights school, King Edward Community hall.

Wednesday, Nov. 11—Franciscan Hall, North Edmonton; Norwood I.O.O.F. Hall.

All meetings will commence at 8 p.m. and all electors are cordially invited to attend.

HALLOWE'EN IS QUIET AFFAIR

The quietest Hallowe'en in Edmonton's history was recorded Saturday evening, according to Chief of Police A. G. Shute.

"Except for the daring hold-up at the Leland hotel there wasn't a single offence worth mentioning" said the chief. "So far we haven't received a report of any kind revealing damage to property.

"There were only few store merchants who complained of children soaping their plate glass windows and one west end resident reported that his front gate was stolen. That's about the only reports we received regarding Hallowe'en celebrations," said the chief.

"It's sure different from what is was about six or seven years ago. In those days it wasn't safe to even open the door of your home without some offense being committed by Hallowe'en hoodlums. I wish to thank the citizens for their co-operation, in helping us to establish the record," said the chief.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING

Showing an increase of $182,640 over the figures for the same period last year, city buildings permits from January 1 to October 31, were $842,170, compared with $659,530 up to this date in 1935.

Classification of permits is as follows: For six public buildings, $60,940; for 29 commercial buildings, $474,000; for 381 alterations and repairs, $128,270; for 52 dwellings (1,000 and up), $119,500; for 68 dwellings (under $1,000), $30,535; for 145 miscellaneous, $28,525.

Permits were issued in October for buildings at a total cost of $51,900. There were 100 permits.

Greatest increase, due to bargain prices, is shown in sales of city lands which, for the month of October were $25,747, compared to $11,190 in October of 1935. Total sales up to date this year were $84,188, compared with $49,160 for the same period last year.

Rents collected in October were $13,480, compared with $10,734 in October, 1935. Total rents up to date this year are $116,887, compared to $103,355 for the same period in 1935.

Kinsmen Club To Open Annual TB. . Seal Sale Drive

The Kinsmen Club, which has long played a prominent part in curtailing the havoc wrought by tuberculosis in Edmonton, will begin its annual drive for funds with which to continue its prevention work on November 15. Dr. Wm. Lloyd, a member of the club executive, announced Monday.

The club employs a nurse who devotes all her attention to caring for patients and seeing that they do not suffer any relapse after their hospital treatment is at an end. So successful has this work been that Miss Hart of Toronto, assistant secretary of the National Tuberculosis Association, claimed on a recent visit to the city that the Kinsmen are performing a service comparable to any rendered in the Dominion.

As usual, the club will secure its funds by the sale of Christmas seals. These seals are now in the mail, and members of the club urge all citizens to purchase the tokens generously so that the work in exterminating the "white scourge" may continue with increased success.

U.S. COAST PORTS FROZEN TIGHT BY MARITIME STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Federal intervention in the Pacific coast maritime strike appeared in prospect from three sources today as seamen spread a "sympathetic" blockade to eastern United States and gulf ports.

Admiral H. G. Hamlet, representing the maritime commission, summoned both sides to a hearing which twice previously was postponed.

GOVERNMENT CHALLENGE

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady declared the "government must challenge" what he said was the position taken by those involved in the dispute.

Every coast port remained "frozen" tight by the walkout called Thursday midnight by leaders of 37,000 ship and dock workers. Vessels arriving since the strike started fell under the blockade. The Marine Exchange here reported more than 140 vessels idle at west coast ports and Honolulu.

The seamen's defence committee in New York, acting in defiance of no-strike orders from officials of the International Seamen's Union, claimed 57 vessels tied-up at least and gulf ports in the sympathy "sit downs." The committee claimed 2,300 men affected.

NEW STRATEGY

Strategy mapped out by the committee for New York and the other ports was to keep men aboard vessels but refuse any but watch duty.

At Philadelphia, John J. Egan, secretary of the Maritime Exchange, reported "everything tied up." Other ports in which the seamen's committee claimed one or more ships tied up were: Baltimore, Newark, Poughkeepsie, Charleston, Norfolk, Albany, New Orleans, Providence, Port Arthur, Texas City, Mobile and Galveston.

VANCOUVER TO ENGLAND AIR SERVICE NEAR

plans for transporting mail and passengers across the North Atlantic, and it is expected an air route from England, via Ireland and Newfoundland, to Montreal will be in operation by 1938.

"Canada has contracted with these countries to furnish an air service from Montreal to the Pacific ocean as a connecting link in this all-British route. Aside from this, there is an insistent demand from the traveling public for modern air transportation in Canada.

RAILS CO-OPERATE

"It-is-hoped that the proposed air service can be developed through co-operation between the railways and the government. The post office department estimates that sufficient business is available almost from the start to make the route commercially feasible.

"The dominion government has already invested $6,500,000 in air fields, and with the expenditure of an additional $1,500,000 would have ground facilities across Canada the equal of those of any transcontinental route in America.

"Private interests are willing and anxious to provide the requirements of the service, and it will be the duty of the governments to see that the best and the most modern equipment is provided."

THREE POSSIBLE S. C. CANDIDATES VISIT PREMIER

Three candidates-prospective of the Social Credit party in the Grouard constituency, from whom a final selection will be made to contest the by-election of November 30, were visitors in this city on Monday, to interview Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet and Social Credit Grouard zone directors.

The three possible candidates were named at a convention held in Grouard two weeks ago.

They are Paul Z. Pelletier, of Falher, farmer; Dr. W. Desrosiers, M.D., of McLennan and Clarence Neden, farmer of High Prairie.

It is likely that a final selection will be announced by Premier Aberhart by the end of this week.

The three candidates-prospective will be interrogated by the cabinet and zone directors on the principles of Social Credit; the philosophy of the movement; the application of mechanical principles, and their general attitude toward the movement; their experience in public life, and qualifications for representing the constituency.

Meat Packers Union Formed Last Year

Edmonton Meat Packers and Purveyors' union local No. 1, who called a strike at Gainer's Limited packing plant last week, is a body organized last December through the Edmonton National Labor council, it was stated Monday by Victor Thomson, business agent for the packers' body.

President of the parent union is J. Francis, Secretary R. LeMaitre and Organizer G. A. Brown. Thomson, who states he worked as an employee of Swift's, is assistant organizer, following his discharge from that packing plant, at the end of January. He denied that he himself organized the packers' union, as previously reported.

C.P. Superintendent Is Given Send-Off

Local officials of the C.P.R. gathered in the Corona hotel Saturday night to pay tribute to J. L. Palethorpe, former superintendent for all company lines operating out of the city, who now leaves to assume similar duties at Medicine Hat.

Following the complimentary dinner given in his honor the departing superintendent was presented with a club bag on behalf of the assembled guests. Among the officials present were: J. Neill, D. M. Smith, H. H. Tripp, R. J. Collins, R. Tourner, A. C. Ades, F. E. Scott, G. A. Staples, F. F. W. Lowle, E. J. Taylor, A. Brown, J. Peck, E. E. Thocker, R. W. Greene, S. G. Easton, R. V. Tombe, W. Mitchell and J. A. McLean.

Azana Attempts Suicide, Report

VALLADOLID, Spain, Nov. 2—A broadcast from the insurgent station here last night said President Manuel Azana had attempted to commit suicide in Barcelona, but was prevented from doing so by his aide, Masquelet.

The broadcast quoted Azana as saying, "My life is now at the mercy of the Anarchists." It claimed that he tried to kill himself when Catalonian authorities refused to permit him to leave Barcelona.

CLEARANCE OF SLUMS AIMED AT IN OTTAWA

mission has been concentrating on the campaign to rehabilitate houses by making arrangements with the banks to supply home-owners with loans for the purpose. This campaign got under way today.

WATCHED LONDON

The minister, it is expected, will go into slum clearance with the commission, possily this week.

While in London, it is known, he made a study of the great activities of the London County Council to clear slums and relieve overcrowding.

The council has about 30,000 houses and flats which it rents to working class families. It receives assistance from the government.

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario Minister of Labor and Welfare, announced during the week-end legislation will be introduced at the next session of the legislature enabling the public to take advantage of the Dominion government's home repair plan.

"Legislation at the next session will authorize municipalities to exempt from increased property assessment improvements made through the Dominion home repair and modernization scheme," he said.

was asserted, the Japanese said to Lieutenant Packersford:

"You say you're a British officer. We say you're not. You're nothing but a drunken sot. Get out of here!"

The Japanese threatened Lieutenant Packersford with imprisonment if he did not depart, officers here said, and after he left, the Japanese assertedly resumed the assaults on the three seamen and dislocated the jaw of one of them.

Two of the sailors eventually agreed to sign the desired confession, but the man with the broken jaw refused to sign and was then thrown into jail and further tortured with a fountain pen thrust into the flesh under his fingernails and ink squirted into the bleeding wounds until he signed the document.

British naval authorities announced they possessed indisputable proof that the sailors paid their taxi fare.

Queen Improves

LONDON, Nov. 2—The health of Queen Mary, who has been confined to her room by a severe cold, continued to improve, but she will remain under a physician's care for a few more days, it was announced today.

MUSSOLINI HINTS FOR PLEDGE WITH BRITAIN

PREMIER DECLARES CONFLICT WOULD EMBROIL EUROPE

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 2.—With his fiery "armed peace" speech ringing around the world, Premier Mussolini looked today for reaction from Great Britain before offering a complete Anglo-Italian pact, including recognition of mutual rights in the Mediterranean.

Warning that "the Italian people would spring to their feet like one man" to fight for "that sea which was the sea of Rome," Il Duce told 500,000 wildly cheering Fascists, "if the Mediterranean is for others a high road, for us Italians it is life.

NOT MENACING

"We have said a thousand times, and I repeat, we do not intend to menace this road. We do not intend to interrupt it. But we say on the other hand, our rights and vital interests must be respected.

"There are no alternatives—reasoning brains of the British Empire must realize the thing is done and is irrevocable. The sooner the better.

"Bilateral conflicts are not to be thought of, and even less a conflict which from bilateral would become immediately European

COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING

"There is, therefore," he said bluntly, "only one solution—direct, rapid and complete understanding with Britain on the basis of recognition of reciprocal interests."

(In London informed sources said no matter what Mussolini's speech portended, Britain would not change her Mediterranean policy—based on the unflinching credo that that sea is Britain's "life-line" to her Dominions and colonies.)

MILLIONS IN ENGLAND AT POLLS TODAY

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Voters representing a population of 20,000,000, will go to the polls throughout England and Wales today in municipal elections which may indicate the trend of national political sentiment.

Labor groups and Liberals, in control of 42 boroughs last year, hoped to gain wider representations to strengthen campaigns for social reforms and closer alliance with the co-operative movement — co-operative stores and industrial projects.

Conservatives, responding to an appeal by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain, preached a program of retrenchment and economy in their bid for votes.

A total of 372 boroughs are involved. Most of them elected a third of their councils each year.

In London, however, less than half the population will vote. The London County Council elections do not come until next March.

Scotland will vote Tuesday.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS DINNER

Throwing election worries to the winds, members of the aldermanic board were "hail fellows well met" at council's annual dinner, in the Macdonald hotel, Sunday afternoon. Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., was host while Ald. Hugh J. Macdonald, who had charge of arrangements, acted as chairman.

All the aldermen, excepting Ald. J. T. McCreath who was indisposed and was confined to his home, and Ald. James East, who had a previous engagement, attended the gathering. Others present were Commissioner R. J. Gibb, City Clerk Alfred Russell and Henry White, secretary of the commission board.

Following a sumptuous repast, members of council made brief speeches.

Frank J. Mahon, Old Telegrapher, Succumbs At 71

SASKATOON, Nov. 2—Pioneer employee of C.P.R. telegraph department, Frank J. Mahon, 71, died yesterday. Since 1930, when he retired as C.P.R. inspector of telegraphs for Saskatchewan, Mr. Mahon lived in Regina, and more recently in Saskatoon. He had been unwell since last August.

Born in Montreal in 1865, Mr. Mahon was graduated from Montreal College. August 1886, he joined the original staff of C.P.R. telegraphs in Montreal. Later he became telegraph superintendent in the Maritime provinces with headquarters in St. John, N.B. In 1915, he was transferred to Saskatchewan.

Minister Absolved By Court Of Honor

PARIS, Oct. 31—A court of honor cleared Interior Minister Roger Salengro today of Rightist charges that he betrayed his country during the Great War.

The three-man committee of war veterans, headed by General Marie-Gustave Gamelin, army chief of staff, announced that, contrary to the assertions of the Rightist press, Salengro was not condemned to death as a deserter, but was acquitted by a military court.

He could not defend himself, the committee reported, because he was then a prisoner in Germany.

CHANT PONDERS DAIRIES LOAN

Negotiations between the United Milk Producers of Calgary and the banks for a loan of $12,500 to provide feed for dairy herds supplying Calgary with fluid milk have been called off and the situation will be met in other ways, according to Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of agriculture.

The government had given a guarantee to the banks for the loan, but the loan was declined by the bank, as the enabling Order-in-Council for the loan made it possible for the bank to deal either with the individual member of the organization or the organization as a whole.

Hon. Mr. Chant said that as some of the producers had individual credits at the bank and as others would come within the scope of free freight provisions for their feed that these factors, together with such other help as the government could give, would be sufficient to take care of the situation.

Mine Workers Still Striking

CADOMIN, Oct. 31.—Cadomin mines are still idle as they have been all week. Mine workers here are on strike, claiming a breach of contract by the Cadomin Coal Co., Ltd., the company also claiming failure to abide by agreements. R. Livett, president of district 18 U.M.W.A., is in town and will confer with W. J. Dick, mine president.

Crew Is Saved

BREST, France, Oct. 31—Crew of the Greek freighter Mykonos was rescued last night by lifesaving boats after the vessel ran aground ten miles east of the Island of Guessant, near here. The ship, which sent out a distress call early yesterday, was reported lost.

Civilian Aviation Today Passes from Control of Department of Defence

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Transfer of the civil aviation branch from the National Defence department to the new ministry of transport is scheduled to take place today. When it becomes effective, a connection which linked civil aviation with the military end of things shortly after the war will be severed.

Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, will thereafter be the responsible member of the cabinet for the licensing of commercial air pilots and enforcement of air regulations.

Civil aviation control in Canada was a post-war development and arose from the fact that during the conflict all training camps and aircraft factories in Canada were under direction of the Imperial government. Canada's first effort in her own aerial development resulted from the sinking of an oil-tanker by a German submarine eight miles off Halifax harbor, in 1917.

Steps were then taken to establish aerial patrols at Halifax and Sydney and these patrols were at first manned by personnel from the United States who were waiting to proceed overseas.

In 1919 parliament passed the Air Board Act, administered by Hon. A. K. MacLean, at present justice of the exchequer court, who was then minister of reconsturction. Establishment of the civil aviation branch followed immediately, with John A. Wilson in control.

PILOTS LICENSED

Air regulations were drafted and licensing of pilots begun. From the beginning the connection between the civil aviation wing and military air operations was slight, although personnel for the branch was furnished by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

In 1923 the branch became part of the defence department and the old air board was abolished. In the past 12 years considerable development has taken place and great success has attended efforts of the branch in making a survey of Canada's airways. The Prairie sections were concluded in 1930 and the coast regions, both Pacific and Atlantic, in subsequent years.

Last July the civil aviation branch took over the construction of emergency landing fields begun as a relief measure under the defence department in 1933.

TWO DIVISIONS

Two main divisions operate under the branch—one, air regulations and the licensing of pilots; two, maintenance and lighting of airports.

At the end of September Canada had 931 licensed pilots, of whom 501 were commercial and 480 private. A total of 517 air engineers had obtained licenses.

Commercial aircraft in Canada number 465, of which 403 are commercial and 62 private. There are 102 licensed airports.

Community League Meeting On Monday

The annual meeting of the Jasper place, Westgrove and District Community league postponed from Oct. 5 will be held on Monday next, Nov. 2, in the Jasper place (city) school.

The main topic of discussion will be three notices made at the last meeting to amend the constitution by eliminating from the league's activities all that part of the district lying outside the city of Edmonton, but providing for a percentage of associate members from West Jasper Place, with representation on the executive. This matter is expected to provoke a great deal of discussion, and following the result of the vote upon it officers will be elected and committees set up for the new season's work.

INTEREST CUT DEPLORED BY BONDHOLDERS

Many in Alberta in Poor Circumstances Says Committee Head

Regret that the provincial government has proclaimed the legislation bringing about a compulsory reduction in interest payable on all Alberta securities was expressed on Monday by H. L. Spankie, chairman of the Northern Alberta committee of the Alberta bondholders.

Announcement of proclaiming of the Act was made on Saturday by Premier William Aberhart. This act ratifies an Order-in-Council passed on May 28 last by which interest on Alberta bonds is reduced to three per cent.

SPEAKS FOR FEW

"I have just been advised," Mr. Spankie said, "of the proclaiming of the act. Our committee here represents only individual holders, mostly resident in Alberta. Any authoritative statement representing all holders must come from J. M. Macdonnell, chairman of the national bondholders' committee.

"In the report filed with the government about a month ago, the national committee expressed a desire to discuss the question with the government and a readiness to have an independent commission appointed to report upon the financial position of the province.

"They intimated that they were prepared to assist such a commission in endeavoring to evolve a solution of our economic difficulties.

HEAVY BURDEN

"I fear that this action will not meet with favor from the individual holders in Alberta whom our local committees represent. Many of them are in relatively poor circumstances and to have their income from this source cut in half is a burden they can ill afford to bear."

TEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Germany, Nov. 2.—Ten persons were killed and three injured when an airliner flying from Frankfort to Erfurt crashed and burst into flames Sunday near Tabarz, in the Thuringian forest.

An air force lieutenant who witnessed the crash pulled the three injured survivors from the burning wreckage.

He was unable to extricate the pilot, mechanic, wireless operator or seven other passengers who were burned to death.

The air force lieutenant said visibility was poor and might have caused the crash.

SEVEN DROWN AS MOTORBOAT IS OVERTURNED

Five Had Been Rescued When Small Craft Capsized

IRONWOOD, Mich., Nov. 2.—Seven persons were drowned in Lake Gogebic, 40 miles east of here, after a motorboat capsized Sunday. Five of the seven drowned when a rescue boat overturned.

Seven men and a boy were pitched into the water from the motorboat about half a mile from shore. Hearing their cries Mrs. Oscar Hendricks, who lives in a cottage on the shore, set out in a rowboat to rescue them.

Five men, she said, clambered into the boat and it overturned.

She swam toward the shore and was picked up by a rescue party which also saved one of the motorboat occupants.

The dead: Irl Dulebohn, 44, Ramsay, Mich., school superintendent; James Halama, 39, principal of Puritan School, Bessemer; his son, James, Jr., 11; Frank Halama, 37, of Bessemer, a brother; Jacob Halama, 71, of Bessemer, grandfather of the brothers; Stanley Cory, 32, Powers, Mich., teacher; Lawrence Patrusha, 48, Ironwood, principal of Ramsay school.

Smith Takes Final Slap At Roosevelt

ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 2.—Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for president in 1928, charged last night New Deal leaders "deliberately retarded recovery in the United States so they could put over a few of their crack-pot schemes."

He criticized President Roosevelt and other Democratic leaders for making alliances with other parties such as the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, the American Labor party in New York and the Progressive party in Wisconsin.

Second Fairbridge Farm Party Lands

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Bound for Fairbridge farm school in British Columbia, 29 English and Scotch lads boarded a western train last night just after their arrival on the liner Duchess of Richmond.

They comprised the second group of British boys coming to Canada to learn farming. Ranging in age from four to 13, they were selected from numerous candidates by Fairbridge school committee in the old country.

Edmonton City Dairy's Margin Per Quart

ON ALL MILK SOLD IS

4.55 Cents

(As shown in Last Week's Advertisement)

This has to pay for the following services:

Receiving: Each shipment of milk on arrival at the plant is weighed separately—graded and tested by licensed operatives. All empty cans are then washed and sterilized before being returned to the farmers.

Laboratory Supervision: A modernly equipped laboratory in charge of a qualified expert stands guard over the purity of E.C.D. Milk. Many times daily samples of milk from the receiving room, pasteurizers and bottling machines are sent to the laboratory to be tested. The milk received from each farmer is tested separately for Purity, Richness and Safety.

Pasteurization: All E.C.D. Milk is pasteurized for your protection. This process involves investment in and upkeep of costly equipment . . . operated by skilled labor. All equipment must be cleased and sterilized daily.

Bottling: Modern automatic bottling and capping machinery takes care of this important operation, insuring absolute sanitation. Experienced operatives are also required in this department.

Storage: Large cold storage rooms must be provided in which milk is held in huge, glass lined containers until the next delivery. These rooms are completely insulated and temperature maintained just above freezing by mechanical refrigeration.

Bottle Washing: This is a most important process. Special machines soak, wash, brush the bottles for a period of twenty minutes when bottles are finally sterilized by live steam. Tons of washing soda are utilized yearly for the thorough cleansing of bottles.

Delivery: The Cost of Delivering Your Morning Milk Supply Amounts to 2.5 CENTS PER QUART. Over 56 men are employed in this service alone, 80 horses, 40 wagons and many trucks. Providing of fodder, maintenance of trucks and wagons, licenses, etc., are costly items, as is also the large equipment required to take care of loading and unloading at the plant. Seven days a week—in fair weather or foul, E.C.D. Milk must go through and be delivered at your door on time.

General Expenses: This item includes CITY, PROVINCIAL and DOMINION TAXES, which for the year 1935 amounted to $20,245.00, insurance against fire, theft and accidents, Workmen's Compensation, inspection, services, bottle breakage and replacements, general office expenses and maintenance of plant, etc.

In the year 1935, the last for which complete records are available, the Edmonton City Dairy paid out in wages the sum of

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2

THE CITY'S FINANCES

Expenditure on unemployment relief naturally figures prominently in the report on the city's finances prepared by the commissioners for the information of the voters in advance of the civic elections; since the expenditure itself was a prime factor in bringing about the present unfavorable cash position of the city, and played a major part in creating the broader circumstances which call for a reduction in bond interest rates as the means of restoring balance.

For the first nine months of the year the city's share of this cost ran to $410,000, the Governments contributing $514,000. The total of $925,000 suggests an outlay around $1,200,000 for the twelve months, with the share borne by the city in the neighborhood of $550,000—upwards of one-fifth of the total general tax levy for the year.

Since 1930 the cost of direct relief to the city has been rather more than $2,300,000. Up to the end of the last year $1,200,000 of the amount had been "funded" and translated into permanent debt. How much of this year's outlay will have to be capitalized is uncertain, but the outlook is that the amount will be far in excess of the $250,000 cited by the city council early in the year.

Figures such as these carry their own comment as to the serious part relief costs have played in shaping the present situation, and the commissioners add they are without much hope "of anything like a permanent solution to the problem."

BUDGETED DEFICITS

A further complication, it is pointed out, arises from the fact that the tax rate for the year, 55 mills, was set arbitrarily, as was the same rate last year, in knowledge that the revenue produced by this rate would not meet the requirements for the year.

The rate, that is to say, was not set at the figure necessary to meet the prospective outgo, but at what council thought to be the figure that would produce the maximum amount of revenue.

The "complication" does not therefore arise from the fact that an arbitrary rate was set, but from the fact that any higher rate would have been useless, if not a positive deterrent to tax payment. The inability of the taxpayers to put up the amount required was the complicating condition, against which no rate-setting on the part of council could avail.

Even the 55 mill rate, on the reduced assessment is expected to bring in no more than 100 per cent of the present year's taxes. Since tax arrears at the end of last year were more than $2,000,000, it is obvious that unless current collections exceed current levies there is no headway in restoring the balance.

Full payment of the present levy would leave another deficit, of unknown proportions, at the end of the present year.

THE DEBT LOAD

The net general funded debt amounts to $20,000,000, deducting sinking funds in hand from the gross debt of $32,000,000, all in round figures. Eliminating debts of the utilities—which are meeting their own capital charges, and local improvement debentures—which are paid by special taxation, the net funded debt chargeable against general revenue is $14,000,000

On this debt the city is paying an average rate of 5.24 per cent. For 1936 the interest bill is $1,720,000. For 1937 it is calculated at $1,710,000. Added to which are interest claims on school board debts of about $200,000 per year.

The general tax levy this year is $2,000,000 plus. Interest on the city's debt thus requires this year almost 59 per cent. of the amount of the general tax levy. Including school debts, the interest bill is more than 60 per cent. of the levy.

Remembering that council set the tax rate this year at the figure which seemed likely to bring in the maximum amount of revenue, the disproportion of interest charges to the taxpayers' ability to pay is only too apparent.

The fact is the city is going behind at the rate of one-fifth or more of the interest bill per year, while the taxpayers are being taxed to the limit.

THE SITUATION

What it all comes to in terms of the present cash position is that the city has an overdraft of $94,000, owes the bank $895,000 on bills payable, has treasury bills outstanding in the amount of $1,250,000, has given notes to the school boards amounting to $411,000, and owes the sinking fund board $205,000.

A total of $2,855,000 of "floating" debt, part of which is represented by debentures not presently saleable amounting to $524,000.

If the fourth tax instalment payment and other revenue for the remaining quarter bring in the odd $855,000, a reasonable expectation, the remaining immediate problem will be where to find a sum of $2,000,000, or where to market securities in that amount and thus translate these miscellaneous obligations into fixed debt.

From the taxpayer's stand-point the conclusion is evident, so far as concerns the election—and it was for his information in view of the election the report was issued. He will need next year, even more than is usual, a city council composed of men of courage and business understanding. The city is in a critical time, and the services of the most competent men available are required if a break-down is to be averted.

THE LAW AND NAZISM

There has probably been no more damaging commentary upon Hitlerism than the report recently issued by the international conference of lawyers at London. With terse precision this document summarizes the violations of law initiated or sanctioned by the administration at Berlin. The congress solemnly affirmed its conviction that these new tendencies were destructive of the basic axioms of jurisprudence, and palpably designed to abridge the just liberties of man.

Some of the findings of the report justify the indignant alarm manifested by the assembled delegates. A German lawyer who dared to defend any political prisoner, it was charged, was liable to instant and oppressive prosecution on behalf of the government. Even if he had not pleaded for any accused radical since 1918, this threat of punishment still hovered ominously about him. In many courts, too, judges were in an impotent minority due to the appointment of civil commissioners to supervise their conduct and veto any decisions that might be critical of Hitler's policies. Worst of all this invasion of statutory law permitted innumerable people to be arrested on the flimsiest pretext and interned for an intolerable period without any trial or redress. The lawyers asserted that the cumulative effect of these violations was to exile justice from the state, making personal security absolutely dependent upon political subserviency.

These conclusions do not represent the mere academic speculations of cloistered scholars; they portray in their emphatic sincerity the eclipse of law and the legalization of anarchy in one of the most cultured nations in the world. The stunning fact is that these calamitous innovations in the administration of German justice were not introduced under the pressure of necessity, but because of the dictates of a special political creed. Even laymen will agree with lawyers, in this instance, that the abuse of advocates is deliberately fostered in Berlin today in order to silence any person anxious to, in turn, exercise his own natural and perhaps justifiable desire to criticize Hitler.

What Does "Hypo"- Mean?

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

Doctors often use the prefix "hypo—" without realizing that the ordinary person may not be familiar with its meaning. Hypo—comes from the Greek and refers to a lack or deficiency. This prefix is frequently used in connection with secretion, when it means a lack of secretion, or a deficiency of secretion, or a secretion which is below normal.

Dr. F. McCoy

Thus, hypochlorhydria, means a deficiency of the hydrochloric acid secreted by the stomach. The popular way of describing this is "not enough acid." Another example of a lack of secretion is hypoinsulinism, which refers to a deficient secretion of insulin by the pancreas, resulting in diabetes. Probably the term diabetes is easily recognized by all of you, but you might not realize that hypoinsulinism relates to the same thing.

Another example of a "hypo-" disease is hypotension. In this case, there is no thought of a lack of secretion, but instead, there is the thought of a lack of normal tone of the blood vessels, especially of the arteries. Possibly this disorder is more familiar to you as low blood pressure.

I will begin the discussion of these "hypo—" diseases with hypochlorhydria, or lack of enough secretion of acid by the stomach. While this condition is not nearly so universal as hyperacidity of the stomach, which means an excessive secretion of acid, it is, nevertheless, more common than is generally supposed. It may occur in stomach disorders and also occurs in at least one-half of all cases of chronic gall bladder inflammation.

A temporary lack of secretion may be experienced during an attack of anger, or following fear, worry, anxiety, or any other strong emotion. If such a state of the emotions is chronic, then the gastric secretion will reflect the mental state and the usual secretion of acid may be seriously interfered with. A decrease in this secretion often accompanies such diseases as gastritis, appendicitis and pernicious anemia. These diseases known as the debilitating diseases, as well as the fevers, may also depress the acid secretion of the stomach.

Some medical authorities insist that this condition of lowered secretion is always present in old people past the age of 60.

Most cases of deficient secretion may be divided into two types; one in which there is very little secretion and one in which there is probably considerable secretion but too much neutralization.

The symptom most likely to be present when the stomach in not secreting enough acid is diarrhoea. The medical treatment of hypochlorhydria is the administration of hydrochloric acid to the patient, and this is generally sufficient to stop the loose elimination. However, I seldom find it necessary to advise that the acid be given, as it has been my experience that the best plan is to put the patient on an orange juice fast. During the fasting regimen, the stomach which has been deficient in secretion will so return to normal tone that the corrective secretions will then take place, in the proper proportion to each other.

Very often, the trouble is easily adjusted in this way, with no other measure being necessary. Dr. Sansum, of Santa Barbara, has been able to help these patients with a deficient acid secretion by giving them 2 ounces of lemon juice or 6 ounces of grapefruit juice before the meal. However, I do not find the administration of fruit juices really necessary, as the fasting period will be all that is required inasmuch as the ability of the stomach to secrete a normal amount of acid will return during the fasting regimen.

In tomorrow's article, I will discuss some more of the "Hypo—" disorders. Watch for the article.

Poems That Live

"THE BUTTERFLY"

I hold you at last in my hand,
Exquisite child of the air.
Can I ever understand
How you grew to be so fair?

You came to my linden tree
To taste its delicious sweet,
I sitting here in the shadow and shine
Playing around its feet.

Now I hold you fast in my hand,
You marvelous butterfly,
Till you help me to understand
The eternal mystery.

From that creeping thing in the dust
To this shining bliss in the blue!
God give me courage to trust
I can break my chrysalis too!

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Western Canadian wheat farmers, whether they know it or not, have an issue under decision for them in tomorrow's Presidential elections in United States. It is the issue of state crop insurance.

It hasn't appeared as a debateable plank in the Democratic platform, but it is part of the "New Deal" program for agriculture. If the "New Deal" gets a further lease of life—and this commentator thinks it will—state crop insurance will be initiated upon a new set of legalistic and economic formulae. It will no longer be a political vote-catcher or a hit-and-miss gamble by insurance companies. The "New Deal" economists have worked out a formula that will make it possible for any western provincial government to go into the business of insuring the crops of its wheat farmers.

Private companies have met with a notable lack of success in crop insurance. In 1899 a Minneapolis company offered an all-risk insurance at a rate of 5 per cent. This meant insuring wheat prices. A depressed market that year and the next put the company into bankruptcy.

Not till 1917 did another company venture into the field. It fixed its rate at 10 per cent., but a drought in the area in which it had concentrated wiped it out the following year.

In 1920, the wealthy Hartford Insurance Company made a trial. It took in $800,000 in premiums—and paid out $2,500,000 in indemnities. An attempt to continue with a modified policy the following year failed to interest sufficient farmers to keep the business going.

A fourth and last attempt at private crop insurance was made in 1931 and 1932 by the Kansas Agricultural Protective Mutual Insurance Company. It took the modified Hartford plan as its model, charging 50 cents to $1 an acre to guarantee $6.25 an acre (the estimated cost of production). Another drop in prices and the Kansas concern went the way of its predecessors.

Although the Supreme Court of United States declared the Agricultural Adjustment Act—better known as the AAA—to be an invasion of the rights of the individual states, and therefore ultra vires of the federal power, the New Dealers haven't quit trying. Though the system of crop loans has had to be discontinued in face of the outlawing of the AAA legislation by the Supreme Court, the plan now is to stabilize the business of the wheat-grower through the marriage of two ideas, within the federal orbit.

Crop insurance is a modern idea. The other partner in this marriage of ideas, is one of the oldest in the history of agriculture. It is the idea of an "ever normal granary" as it was called in the time of Confucius. Older than Confucius, it goes back to the days when Joseph ruled as Prime Minister to one of the Pharoahs of Egypt, turning into reality his interpretation of the dream of the seven fat and the seven lean kine:

> "And let them gather all, the food of these good years that come, and lay up grain under the hand of Pharoah for food in the cities, and let them keep it.
> "And the food shall be for a store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not through the famine."

Insurance company actuaries have long doubted whether a sound basis for crop insurance exists. This in part is due to the necessity of fixing premiums in terms of money.

Expressed in its simplest terms, the new method will be to build up a national granary system from wheat carryovers, so that 200 million bushels will be on hand at all times. Premiums will be paid, not in cash but in grain paid into granaries in years of good crops. The grower's compensation will be paid, not in cash, but in grain.

The method of the private companies in establishing rates over areas will not be followed. Instead each of the 577,254 wheat farms in United States will have its rate fixed individually, assording to its record of production over a term of previous years, as filed with the bureau of agricultural economics. In this way the good farmer is not penalized for his shiftless neighbor.

The farmer will be insured only up to 75 per cent. of his crop averaged over a period of years on a bushel-per-acre basis. This percentage, it is assumed, will cover his costs on the crop he has lost and supply him with the means of putting in his next crop, but will check him from taking things easy in the belief that he can make up his loss with indemnities. Premium payments will not be exacted in lean years, but the farmer will have to put aside a stated percentage of his surplus in good years.

The premiums as at present worked out will certainly drive farmers away from poor lands.

For instance, in Frederick County, Maryland where the average crop is 19.26 bushels to the acre, the base premium will be .44 bushels per acre, but in Haskell County, Kansas, where the average yield is but 7.6 bushels to the acre, the farmer would have to pay 2.4 bushels an acre to receive a guarantee of 75 per cent. of his average 7.6 bushel crop.

Subscribers to the scheme will be required to sign up for a six year period.

Canadian wheat-growers will watch with interest the working out of the "ever normal granary—crop insurance scheme" that Secretary Wallace and his experts have worked out in an effort to circumvent the Supreme Court and provide the wheat-grower of United States with insurance against the loss of his crop.

If it succeeds, it will make wheat-growing a business, instead of a gamble far exceeding the uncertainties of stud-poker or black jack.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1804 Louis Charles Foucher was appointed provincial judge, thereby inaugurating a long political issue. He had been M.L.A. for Montreal West 1796-1800, then for York until 1804 when he was elected for Three Rivers. From the first he had manifested antagonism to the more advanced French party in the assembly, thereby ingratiating himself with the governor, and in 1795 he was solicitor general. Then in 1804 he was named judge at Three Rivers. The double mandate was bad enough, but the situation was rendered unusual because not only was Foucher M.L.A. and judge, but he was named judge for the very district he represented in the assembly. The French party opened hot war upon him in the assembly, accusing him of having sold himself to the governor (Prescott) and of being a traitor to his race. Several times the assembly passed resolutions demanding the separation of his judicial and legislative duties, and for his removal from the judiciary; but every time the governor ignored the demands. Foucher was unperturbed. He did both jobs to his own satisfaction until 1808 when he dropped out of politics. Even then he was pursued in the assembly by demands for his dismissal. Instead the governor promoted him in 1812 to be judge of the King's Bench at Montreal, where he died in 1829, detested by a majority of his race. Ask any French-Canadian friend his opinion of "Foucher, l'Homme Vendu" and you will be surprised how hatreds can be carried down from generation to generation.

Alberta's Credit Policy

By E. S. Woodward

It is time for the Aberhart Government to declare itself on the subject of old age and invalidity pensions. So far it has been silent on this important subject. Mr. Aberhart himself has declared that he can pay $75.00 monthly to everybody just as easily as $25.00, but has more recently been scaling down his promises to around $5.00. He expects to pay $5.00 a month and he expects to take back $5.00 for every $5.00 distributed. This queer arrangement however, leaves the unemployed, the dispossessed, the sick, and the aged, and other such classes unprovided. He insists on paying $5.00 to the rich and $5.00 to the poor. That is in accordance with the dogma of his system. But unfortunately the unemployed cannot wax fat enough to weigh one-eighth of a ton either on $5.00 a month or on the dogma of the Aberhart system. And the time is coming, and that very soon, when the matter I am now raising will be pressed to a reckoning.

SAVING MONEY AT EXPENSE OF UNEMPLOYED

Dr. Cross, who has during recent months become the outstanding exponent of Aberhart policies, has revealed that the government expects to save money at the expense of everybody on relief. I draw attention to the extraordinary fact that Aberhart dividends are to be deducted from the beggarly relief pittances on which the unemployed are now forced to eke out an existence. And I also draw attention to the fact that the rest of the relief allowances are to be paid in the form of Alberta credit which will only be good for the purchase of Alberta products maintained at swollen prices by arbitrary price fixing. I am surprised that no notice has been taken of this matter by the Trades and Labor Council and by the associations of the unemployed workers. Here is Dr. Cross' official declaration in a signed article appearing in The Alberta Social Credit Commentator: The heading is mine. The text is Dr. Cross'.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON THE POOR

"It is costing us an average of twenty-five dollars per month per family in bank money. Suppose we give each family five dollars in bank credit (money), a five dollar dividend, and fifteen dollars relief in Alberta Credit with which to buy the articles listed above. This fifteen dollars would be charged up to them as relief is today. This would make a saving of fifteen dollars a month in bank credit on each of the twenty thousand families now on relief."

I draw attention to the fact that the total to be paid in any form to the people on relief is not increased by the payment of dividends. The relief payment is $25.00 now and it will continue to be $25.00. In other words the unemployed are to be exempted from the payment of dividends. Only these who do not need them are to receive dividends. They will be paid to the rich and to the unemployed workers, but not to the unemployed. Moreover, only $5.00 a month will be paid in real money. Henceforth $20.00 is to be paid in a form of little value and of limited acceptability. And on the whole transaction the government expects to save money on the unemployed notwithstanding that the relief funds are received from Ottawa.

Dr. Cross is at the head of the relief department and he is the economic expert of the cabinet. The present social credit plan—which bids fair to make world history—is his brainchild. He ought to know and further explain why the Aberhart government is out gunning for the down and out.

SWEEPSTAKES

Editor Bulletin: Isn't it about time that the sweepstake question was given the once-over, now that the people of this part of the globe are so closer to a winner than ever before? A price of over $170,000

Our interest has also been aroused over a proposal to merge all charity monies into one lump sum; into the common community chest, to be parcelled out according to Hoyle. It is not possible to arouse more public interest in the latter question, and this would be very easily accomplished if our government would permit money to be raised in the same manner as the Irish government do the raising of monies for Irish hospitals.

A British trade commissioner recently announced that Canada could not expect Britain to purchase 10 times as much from Canada as Canada does from Britain. Perhaps if we examined the Irish situation we would find that a great deal more cash goes to Ireland for sweepstake purposes than Ireland pays Canada for all the goods she buys from us. Keep our money in Canada. P.M.F.

Hubby had bought a second-hand car after a friend had taught him to drive. Off he went with his wife into the country, but they had only gone a few miles when the car stopped dead.

Other motorists who came that way gave him help, but all their efforts failed. Then hubby, tired and sad, said to his wife: "I didn't understand what the dealer meant at first, but I do now. He said it was 'entirely done up'."

The decrepit old car drove up to the toll bridge.

"Fifty cents," cried the gateman.

"Sold," replied the driver.

Scene: Kit inspection on the British transport lines.

Officer: "Driver Jones, you have only one spur here. Where's the other?"

Jones: "Blimey! Must have left it sticking in the 'oss, sir."

"Popper, what is a platform?"

"A platform is a declaration of unobtainable objectives, so expressed as to arouse the maximum confusion with the minimum sincerity. It is a statement made by politicians with loose memories for consumption by voters who seldom read more than a page of anything unless it has pictures."

First Aid TO THE Ailing House

RENOVATING OLD FLOORS

By Roger B. Whitman

A well made floor, properly finished and kept in good condition, is an asset to a house, and contributes greatly to its appearance. On the other hand, floors that are in poor condition, rough and worn, give an air of shabbiness to a house and its furnishings, however elaborate these may be.

A floor of good wood can be done over at no great expense. The job should start with scraping, which is easily and quickly done by an electric floor machine. This machine cuts off the old finish, grinds down the roughnesses, and discloses a new wood surface that can be finished in any desired color and manner. Such cleaning sometimes brings out unknown beauties. I know of one century-old house that was being renovated by a new owner. The floors of the living-room and dining-room were almost black with many coats of stain and varnish. On resurfacing them with a floor machine, the floors developed to be of exceptionally fine parquet; a most welcome disclosure for which the owners were entirely unprepared.

Old floors of soft wood may be too badly worn for much to be done with them. Also, in such floors, cracks are likely to have developed between the boards. In such cases new flooring can be laid on top. The first step should be the scraping of the old floor to provide a smooth and level surface on which the new can be laid.

Flooring of oak and maple in any one of several grades can be had in thin boards to be nailed on the old floor over a lining of building paper. With the old floor providing the necessary strength, the new is little more than a finish to take the wear. Parquet flooring can also be used.

For many rooms, linoleum makes an excellent finish. Rubber or asphalt tile can also be used. These materials, especially linoleum and rubber, can be had in good design and color, and will give long service. Another flooring is made of cork in compressed blocks. This material is quiet and has the great advantage of providing a high degree of insulation. It is especially good for rooms that for some reason of construction have cold floors.

OIL-STAINED CONCRETE

Question—While my oil burner was being put in, oil was spilled on the concrete floor and has made a bad stain. How can I get it out?

Answer—If the stain is still fresh, cover it with an inch or more of dry Portland cement, and allow to remain for several days. For an old stain, sprinkle with trisodium phosphate damp with water. After two or three hours, scrub with a stiff brush, and flush with clear water. Do not scrub with gasoline, benzine, or other inflammable spot remover, for the friction may set it on fire.

Mr. Whitman regrets that time will not permit him to answer questions from readers. His column will cover items which he knows are of general interest to home owners.

Vinegar Used Gingerly Is Great Salad Secret

By MARY E. DAGUE

One cooked vegetable, one uncooked green in a salad—that's the most simple rule for menu-making with a dash of health in it. Add to the green of salad either other vegetables or fruit, and your simple rule takes on magnificent promise.

Melons, right now, beg for a place at the salad course. You'll find honeydews, casabas, Persians and winter watermelon like splashes of color waiting to add flavor, consistency and food value to your dinner.

Begin with a honeydew salad. Chill the melon, cut in translucent green moons, run a knife between outside and first layer of flesh, rest it on a bed of crisp lettuce, and, just before serving, pour on a restrained amount of French dressing, only lightly seasoned, but made piquant with fresh lime juice. This is the season for limes and they were born to make salads blush with pride.

MIXED GREEN SALAD

A mixed green salad, served in a large bowl right at table, will revive the appetite after a roast and start it out, vigorous again, looking for dessert. Mixed green means many greens of different texture and shape and flavor, all huddled together in that chilled bowl, waiting for the French dressing that will transform them into a unified delight.

Your local markets will surprise you if you look. There are romaine, escarole, chicory, Boston and iceberg lettuce, celery tops and roots, the tender little leaves of broccoli, those infant leaves of fresh spinach, watercress and even radishes from the south to give assorted vitality to that salad bowl. A little minced onion has a way of keeping this emerald assortment in amiable unity.

Garlic, once regarded by Americans as an intruding alien, has been admitted to the best salad circles. And practically no self-respecting jar of French dressing, standing in the refrigerator, is without its clove of garlic. Incidentally, the statement that it is difficult to make men eat salads is based on superstition and too much vinegar. Any hotel or restaurant manager will tell you that men eat more salads than women—that is good, green, lively salads.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Compote of sliced bananas, cooked prunes, dried dates, hot wheat cereal, brown sugar, cream, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Frankfurters fried in batter, mixed vegetable salad, rolls, orange gelatin, tea.

DINNER: Corned beef hash, buttered beets, hot shredded cabbage, melon salad with fresh lime dressing, lady fingers with crabapple jelly filling, coffee.

What To Do

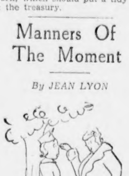
I am chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of a Missionary circle in our church, and I am in need of some new ideas how to raise funds to refill a depleted treasury. Can you help? We have had both ice cream socials and bazaars. Thank you kindly for anything you may do to help.

MRS. F. S. K.

Answer: Every one loves a party and a reason for a party can always be found if a person is really looking for one. A pyramid tea should certainly start a lot of delightful get-togethers and at the same time help to fill the coffers of your missionary treasury. Give the first tea yourself and invite eight of your friends. Tell each person that when she accepts your invitation she agrees to pay 25 cents to the Missionary circle treasury and to entertain six persons at a date in the near future. Each of these six in turn come and pay their quarters and agree to invite four persons, each of whom would pay their quarter and have the next parties and invite two, which would end the series. Each one has, by the time it is all over, attended a party, paid one quarter and entertained a small company of friends herself. A delightful venture, with little work, which should put a tidy sum in the treasury.

Manners Of The Moment

By JEAN LYON



MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

It's no fun to have your nose tweaked after you are twenty.

There are a few times in a girl's life when she meets an old nurse, or an old school teacher, or somebody who used to know her when she was in pigtails. And then is when a girl needs to muster all the patience she has ever developed. Somehow these old darlings can never remember that ten years makes a lot of difference. They cannot seem to realize that one ever grows up. Like as not they'll tweak your nose, or pat your cheek, just as they used to do.

The trouble is that when you do get your nose tweaked by some one who remembers you ten or fifteen years ago, you begin to feel a little bit like a child in a perambulator. But don't let it get you. Don't revert to type, and don't get mad. Either will show you up as not yet psychologically adult. Stand up straight and say in a ladylike fashion, "And how are you?" Or laugh it off and give a returning chuck under the chin. Next time you meet the same old darling she'll probably realize that you've grown up.

AMUSEMENTS

CAPITOL

A gripping drama of intrigue, romance and adventure, "The General Died at Dawn," which opened a three-day run at the Capitol theatre Saturday, brings Gary Cooper to the screen in another colorful soldier-of-fortune role.

With modern China as its background, the plot of "The General Died at Dawn" revolves around the awakening of China to the oppressions of her predatory warlords and the beginnings of a spirit of resistance. Cooper, as the champion of the down-trodden, is in the ranks of the new movement. Playing opposite him is beautiful Madeleine Carroll in the role of the lure held out by a war-lord to lead Cooper to destruction.

"The General Died at Dawn" is the thrilling story of a love that blooms between a man to whom danger is life and the girl who was paid to get him out of the way. Having trapped him she soon finds herself enmeshed in the same web. Remorse causes her to offer her life for the freedom of the man she loves. In a thrilling climax the pair snatch happiness and love from the very jaws of death and save the cause to which the man had dedicated his life.

RIALTO

"Limelight," showing at the Rialto theatre today and Tuesday, is the first picture of a new independent film-making company, Herbert Wilcox Productions, formed by the man who made "Nell Gwyn" and "Peg of Old Drury."

Everything that Herbert Wilcox does is spectacular—and "Limelight" is no exception. It is the first "back-stage" picture ever to be made in England and puts Charing Cross Road and Shaftesbury Avenue and the rest of London's theatreland on the same screen footing as many Hollywood pictures have put Broadway.

In addition, "Limelight" stars Anna Neagle, back in modern times again, and introduces in his frist star part the famous "Street Singer," Arthur Tracy, singing five new numbers and giving the greatest rendering of "La Donna e Mobile" that has ever been heard from the screen.

Based on a story by Laura Whetter, "Limelight" is set against a background of a big London revue, "Celebratin'." Marjorie Kay, played by Anna Neagle, is a chorus girl and Bob Grant, played by Arthur Tracy, is a street singer who is caused by Marjorie at the last minute to save the show on the opening night. The picture shows his meteoric rise to fame and how it affects the romance between him and Marjorie. Needless to say, all comes right in the end, but the story is developed with its full background of song, dance and spectacle. It can be claimed that "Limelight" is a blend of perfect ingredients of entertainment, and among its numbers are the greatest hits of the year.

Watch for Geraldo and his Sweet Music and Gaucho Tango Orchestra, the twenty-four London Hippodrome girls, the speciality dancers, Bobbie and Virginia, Tilly Losch, and a brilliant short personal appearance by Jack Buchanan. Direction by Herbert Wilcox carries the picture along at a mile-a-minute pace.

Safety precautions are one of the most important responsibilities of the prop man in making a motion picture.

This is particularly true in a picture using big cannon such as the twenty mammoth old guns seen on the Monitor and Merrimac in "Hearts in Bondage," stirring Civil War romance currently presenting James Dunn, David Manners, Mae Clarke, Charlotte Henry, Fritz Leiber, and other stars in the Rialto's second feature.

STRAND

Headed by Cecil Cameron, famous professor of swingology, Rosa Glenthon, prima donna, with Lillian Fry, as mistress of ceremonies, and a notable assortment of supporting stars, the March of Rhythm Revue opened at the Strand theatre on Saturday.

That the audience was in a receptive mood for the stage presentations, which back up the picture productions, was evident, for at all three shows the "S.R.O." sign was displayed.

Heading the cavalcade of jazznocracy is the eight-piece orchestra headed by the erudite, digitally-dextrous Cecil Cameron. Cecil and has band, augmented over the one he displayed last season, can produce music that goes round and round in the most approved bojangles of Harlem style, or that can sound as seductively sweet as the outpourings of Ray Noble, Guy Lombardo or Wayne King. Whether in the orchestral numbers, in playing for the dancing or accompanying the voice, the orchestra scored heavily.

Capturing a large share of the calcium is Rora Glenthon, Winnipeg prima donna, a decided asset to the Strand and judging from the reception accorded her, will be a prime favorite during her stay.

It isn't often that a female "master of ceremonies" comes along and it is less seldom that such is a success. But Lillian Fry clinched a place in the affections of the Strand audience with her pep, agility and diversified talents. She welded the whole into a cohesive production and kept the tempo rapid.

Nita Robinson is an attractive singer, whose mellow tones, soft and well modulated, will charm the ear. She is destined to be one of the favorites of The March of Rhythm.

Tribute must be paid to Lillian Petrie and her Dancing Modernettes. For unrestrained vigor, it's doubtful the equal of this fascinating group of modernettes has been seen on a local stage. They present a sure cure for the blues.

The program includes, "The Last of the Mohicans," with Randolph Scott, Binnie Barnes, Henry Wilcoxon and others and the Movietone News and a cartoon.

DREAMLAND

"Moonlight Murder," the screen's first operatic detective story, with Chester Morris and Madge Evans heading an elaborate cast, is the spectacular and fantastic attraction now showing at the Dreamland theatre.

Dealing with the murder of a tenor during an operatic performance at the famous Hollywood Bowl before an audience of 20,000, its mysteries and thrills are played against a background of a huge production of "Il Trovatore" with hundreds in the cast.

Edwin L. Martin, noted mystery director, directed the new picture, with a cast that includes Leo Carrillo, Frank McHugh, Benita Hume, Grant Mitchell, Katharine Alexander.

PRINCESS

One of the most unusual courtroom scenes in the history of American Jurisprudence—a trial of twenty-two men and women jointly charged with first degree murder, provides a dramatic highlight in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Fury," co-starring Sylvia Sidney and Spencer Tracy, and opening now at the Princess theatre.

Many weeks of legal research prefaced the unique sequence, in which Walter Abel, as a conscientious young district attorney, fights to convict the members of a mob accused of burning down a prison to kill a kidnap suspect being guarded within.

Identification of the defendants is achieved, in a surprise move, through the introduction of newsreel pictures taken during the riotous attack on the prison. This and other unexpected turns in the bitterly contested case are said to provide many tense moments in the closing portion of the film.

Frederick Burton, stage and screen veteran, portrays the judge, with Jonathan Hale and Guy Usher as the defense attorneys.

Women Take Peace Theme For Pan Pacific Conference To Meet In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2.—The Pan-Pacific Women's Association, by vote of member countries bordering on the Pacific ocean, will hold its fourth triennial conference in Vancouver July 12-24 next, it was announced here today. The dates are tentative. Since the 1934 Honolulu conference the association has taken for its objective, "practical ways and means of promoting peace and international understanding among the women of Pacific countries."

FAMOUS WOMEN TO GIVE ADDRESSES

To further this they have taken for study topics relating to the subject, each under the direction of an internationally-known leader. The topics include, "Youth Movements for Peace," directed by Dame Katherine Furse, London; "Traffic in Arms," by Dame Rachel Crowdy, London; "Technique for Developing Public Opinion," Emily Newell Blair, Washington; "Labor Standards and Standards for Living," Mrs. Montercy, Philadelphia; "Population Pressure," Mrs. Marie Keissing, Honolulu, formerly of New Zealand.

PERSONALITIES FROM PACIFIC BORDERS WILL ATTEND

The conference will bring to Canada personalities from the Orient, the Antipodes, Pacific islands, United States and elsewhere. Among those expected are Dame Rachel Crowdy, prominent in League of Nations work; Dr. Georgina Sweet, Melbourne, Australia, former international president of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association, and Dr. Nadina Kavinoky, Los Angeles, in charge 16 mother's clinics in that city.

Miss Mary L. Bollert, dean of women at the University of British Columbia, is chairman of the Canadian section.

The National Council of Women will hold its annual convention in Vancouver early in July and it is expected several leaders on that organization will stay over for the Pan-Pacific conference.

SCHOOL ART IS ON VIEW AT GALLERY

School work from the Vancouver School of Art and the Calgary School of Art is on exhibit at present in the Edmonton Museum of Arts, fourth floor Civic Block, and may be seen until Friday, November 23, when the exhibit will be changed.

The Art Gallery is open every afternoon during the week, including Sunday afternoon, and is also open on Friday evenings.

LODGE CONFERS SCARLET DECREE

With several visitors from sister lodges present, the scarlet degree was conferred upon two members when the Lady Strathcona Lodge, L.O.B.A., number 138, met in the Orange Hall on 84 avenue recently. Mrs. T. Waring presided.

At the business meeting the sale of home cooking which is to take place at the market on Saturday, November 7, was discussed and Mrs. M. Mayson was appointed convener. Members were asked to bring their donations of home cooking to the booth as early as possible.

The next meeting of the lodge will take place on Tuesday evening, November 10, at eight o'clock.

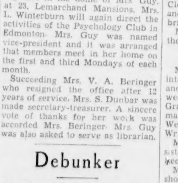
MRS. WINTERBURN HEADS PSYCHOLOGISTS

Unanimously re-elected at a meeting held in the home of Mrs Guy, at 23, Lemarchand Mansions, Mrs. L. Winterburn will again direct the activities of the Psychology Club in Edmonton. Mrs. Guy was named vice-president and it was arranged that members meet in her home on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Succeeding Mrs. V. A. Beringer who resigned the office after 12 years of service, Mrs. S. Dunbar was made secretary-treasurer. A sincere vote of thanks for her work was accorded Mrs. Beringer. Mrs. Guy was also asked to serve as librarian.

Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.



Most furs that are sold in stores are handled under fictitious names. Thus, if you buy sable, you may be getting dyed hare fur; if it is ermine that you choose, you may get ordinary white rabbit fur; if it is sold as leopard, it may be nothing more than dyed goatskin. Hudson seal is not seal at all, usually, but the trade name for muskrat fur which has been clipped, dressed and dyed to imitate seal. Mink furs are also frequently trade labels for muskrat. Shakespeare should have said "a hide by any other name than its own is much more valuable."

According to the New Jersey Dental Society, escarole, kale and parsley contain more vitamin A than does spinach.

Who's Who

charming young Girls' Work Secretary at the Y. W. C. A., where in the brief month since her arrival, her enthusiasm has caught fire and quickened all the veins of association club life. She is anxious to cement the interests and activities of these same clubs in a central council, to which each will send representatives, when general programs can then be arranged, under the headings, recreation, association and education.

Miss Eckel has always been interested in physical culture and for eight summers in her home province, Ontario, attended the Taylor Statten camps, at which some 500 girls are "under canvas" annually. For the last two summers she was junior camp and program director, supervising the activities of some 50 or 60 children just in one section. Prior to coming to Edmonton in September, she was Girls' Work secretary at the Y. W. C. A. in St. Catherines.

Born in Adelaide, Ontario, Miss Eckel went as a small child to St. Thomas, where her mother, Mrs. E. H. Eckel, still resides. Following her high school education in St. Thomas, Miss Eckel enrolled at the University of Western Ontario, where she took a prominent part in student activities, a fondness for writing finding expression in her position as women's editor of the university "Gazette". Miss Eckel was graduated with the Bachelor of Arts degree, with honors in English and history. She is a charter member of the Ontario branch of the Pi Beta Phi fraternity.

She has joined the Women's University Club, too, in the group which is studying the problem of delinquent children.

Skating, skiing, badminton, tennis and swimming—Miss Eckel likes all sports. Of other activities, she "reads everything" and likes to collect miniatures.

Gaiety Chases Spooks Away at Inglewood Ball

IN a magic setting, with huge balloons billowing down from the ceiling, glittering spangles casting back the light from woven streamers of color, and the changing colors of a spotlight playing through the crowd, Inglewood Badminton Club dance was one of the gayest of festive affairs on Saturday evening. Noise makers and the rumble of the rhumba combined to chase away all sorry spirits during the evening and a carnival gaiety prevailed.

During the intermission the large crowd in attendance was entertained with novelty dancing by little Jennie Dyer, who did an acrobatic number, Betty Brown and Edith Heavener, tap dancers, and the Sorenson brothers and their sister, adagio dancers.

Arrangements for the dance were made by Mr. A. Aitken, Mr. George Spargo, Mr. H. Baker, Miss L. Patterson and Mr. John McNeill.

Among those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Southam, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. WERE WOMEN IN DICKENS MERE DOLLS?

"Dickens' male characters were real men, while his female characters were weak dolls. . ." That is the story of the male members of the Dickens Fellowship, but whether they can prove it or not will be seen when they battle words and wits with the women members in an eagerly anticipated debate at the Institute of Applied Arts building on Tuesday. Mr. H. R. Leaver and Mr. H. P. Brown have undertaken to argue for the affirmative against the heated barrage that Mrs. Paul Greenwood and Mrs. H. R. Warren have prepared in defence of their sex.

the social round . . . . .

IT WASN'T a Saturday market order, but a list for a scavenger party that the astonished merchant was asked to fill when a carload of people burst into his shop on Saturday evening . . . some hay, a mushroom, dill pickle, head of cabbage, sprig of lilac . . . the proprietor looked a little apprehensive, this was Hallowe'en, but did produce the cabbage, mushroom, dill pickle, and even the hay (pulled from a broom in the corner), with alacrity. He hadn't any lilac! And after several futile attempts another zero was marked on the list of things to have back at the party by 11 o'clock. "Three needles threaded with green silk . . . that was easy—a library card, blonde hair, tintype, a used postcard, side comb, an autograph book and a yard of pink baby ribbon were quickly added to the bag. A pair of lovebirds someone unearthed, some brown owls . . . oh, well! Black stockings, an oil lamp. There were now but a few precious minutes left to find "any live animal, except a dog."

Conversation about the chicken someone had for dinner led to a consideration of ducks, and a sudden idea from one of the girls . . . she knew where to get a goose!

A goose at a party—that is, an actual goose—is something to remember. He withdrew into the farthest corner of the kitchen, sulked and wouldn't even "whonk" . . . when it was time to produce him, he retreated under the kitchen stove and wouldn't be driven forth, until, with thirty seconds to get him, one of the men came triumphantly forth driving the goose with a stick and looking like a picture out of the Mother Hubbard book. Once at the party the goose was bound to stay . . . flapped his wings and paddled his feet angrily when he was bodily forced to leave

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rice were hosts at the party when the members of the staff of radio station C. F. R. N. were guests, and after the search about the city, dancing and supper at the Springer hotel was climax to a jolly evening.

Prizes went to Miss Mary Alice Pepin, Miss Naomi Lang, and Mr. David Hill. The guests included: Mr. F. Maloney, Mr. R. M. Litch, Mr. A. H. Sunderland, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. MASQUERADE AT "Y"

Parading in the Grand March, over 100 girls, members of the Junior and Intermediate classes at the Y.W.C.A., displayed the clever costumes which they had chosen for the Hallowe'en party in the "Y" on Saturday evening. Miss G. Christie and Miss B. McIvar were judges. Relay races were followed by an impromptu program and supper was served. Prizes were kindly donated and were awarded to the old-fashioned couple for the prettiest; Saturday Night and the Pirate for the most original and the Cat and the Clown for the funniest and the Dutch girls and the Indian for national.

EIGHTY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY MARKED

RED DEER, Nov. 2.—In compliment to her mother, Mrs. E. A. Atkinson on the occasion of her eighty-fourth birthday, Mrs. B. T. Townsend entertained recently at her home, when Mrs. J. A. Choate of Red Deer, and Mrs. W. J. Riddle of Calgary, were present.

Dr. Kellaway Will Speak on Youth Congress

Recently returned from Geneva where he attended the World's Youth Congress in September, Dr. Marwick Kellaway, of Knox church, Calgary, will tell of the findings of the congress and show a picture film taken there, when he addresses the mass meeting arranged by the Peace Conference committee in Edmonton to be held in the Rialto theatre on Sunday, November 15, it is announced. Co-operation in arranging the meeting is given by the Youth Council, of which Mr. W. H. Thornton, as president, represents 22 Youth Societies in the city.

The existing Peace Conference Committee consists of: Mrs. Wm. A. McConkey, Mrs. Ray Schurman, Mrs. Wm. Rowan, Mrs. F. C. Casselman, Rev. J. A. McLennan, Rev. A. E. Black, Mr. Sutcliffe, and Mr. Elmer Roper. At a recent meeting of this committee Mrs. Salverson, Rabbi Eisen, Mr. W. H. Thornton and Mr. Donald Cameron were asked to assist.

TASK OF CO-ORDINATION

The task of exploring possibilities of co-operation and co-ordination among the various Edmonton organizations and committees working for peace is before the committee, thus they act in line with the objectives undertaken by the World Youth Congress of Geneva and the first International Peace Congress at Brussels, when it was recognized that mobilization of peace forces on an international scale was a vital necessity. The League of Nations Society is lending its assistance to this program and the Edmonton Peace Conference Committee, which has attempted for some six years—in collaboration with the Women's International League—to bring about some measure of co-operation of peace activities in Edmonton, is assisting in this world-wide effort.

Approximately 35 organizations were represented at the meeting.

In connection with the peace conference a women's meeting and a luncheon are also planned. Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Salverson and Mrs. Murdoch are assisting on the committee.

"Y" Notebook

Merry Makers will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock sharp in the "Y" club room.

Beta Pi Gamma interest groups commence on Tuesday evening of this week. All business and professional girls are invited to join any of these groups. The interest groups with their respective leaders are Contract Bridge, Miss C. McKay; Social Etiquette, Mrs. Kathleen Howes Goddard, and Leathercraft, Mrs. Ancus Douglas and Miss Blanche Logie. There will be an executive meeting of Beta Pi Gamma prior to the Tuesday meeting in the cafeteria at 6:30 p.m.

WEEK OF PRAYER

For the annual Y.W.C.A. week of prayer, and world fellowship commencing on Sunday, November 8, Rev. C. G. Stone will give an address on "The Will of God in Personal Decision and Action," on Sunday evening in First Baptist church. Mr. Stone's subject will be one phase of the theme "The Will of God," which is chosen for the week.

D'ESQUIRES AND SORORITY PLAN WINTER PARTY

Ushering in the gay whirl of social activities which mark December, members of the Club d'Esquire and the Chi Delta Club are entertaining at the Tivoli ballroom on Friday evening, December fourth, when a large number of the younger set plan to be present for the dancing. Included in the Chi Delta Club are the Misses Muriel Whitton, Janet Simpson, Betty O'Brien, Lillian Brent, Irene Smith, Patricia Vint, Doris Little, Alice Sutton, Helen Sutton, Joan Pollock, Claire Shamper, Eleanor Douglas and Dorothea Marshall.

The Club d'Espuire is comprised of the Messrs. Neil Cuthbertson, Alex Watson, Percy Powers, Victor Soley, Lincoln Graham, Walter Howard and Jack Adams.

Community Leagues

HIGHLANDS

Expressing concern over the recent illness of Mr. George H. Van Allen, the Highlands District Community League, of which he is first vice president, forwarded an expression of sympathy to Mrs. Van Allen, at its last meeting. The election of officers to serve during the coming year resulted in the following being returned: Mr. James A. Ross, president; Mr. M. H. Gilmour, secretary; Mr. W. J. Kelly, treasurer; Mr. George H. Van Allen, first vice-president and members of the executive, Mr. C. G. Sheldon, Mr. M. MacLeod, Mr. W. R. Grierson, Mr. H Baker, Mr A. J. Davidson and Mr. W. R. Churchill. Chairmen were appointed for various committees, including Mr. Van Allen, educational committee; Mr. A. Davidson, improvements and Mr. S. G. McCormack, sports committee.

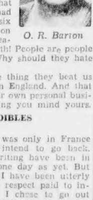
Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

LONDON: Me. I'm a regular Mary Jane Friendly. Maybe that's why I never can get over the feeling, when I visit strange places, that the people are just like us. I keep saying it over and over, "Why, they ride bicycles, wheel baby buggies, and drive cars just as rapidly, eat tomatoes and beans, wear the same clothes and do the same jobs as we do."



O. R. Barton

Somehow after all the war talk, I had an idea that other nations had three eyes or six legs or walked on their hands. Heavens and earth! People are people everywhere. Why should they hate each other so?

There is one thing they beat us at over here in England. And that is minding their own personal business. And letting you mind yours.

PERSONAL FOIBLES RESPECTED

Of course, I was only in France one day, and intend to go back. And at this writing have been in England only one day as yet. But in both places I have been utterly charmed at the respect paid to individuality. If I chose to go out shopping in a pink satin dress and fishing boots, no one would stare or make me feel uncomfortable.

Last night the London streets were jammed. Such a town for people to go places I never have seen. And the variety of dressing for both men and women would have startled the lady at home who puts on a print and goes down town to find everyone else in suits or evening clothes, as the case may be. She is absolutely miserable because she is "different" from everybody else. What a pity.

To be sure there are restaurants and hotels where evening dress is requested, but now you know where you are. In any other case your guess is as good as any. And nobody thinks you are just out of the psychopathic ward if you wear a straw hat, as I did, instead of the ubiquitous felt. Nobody cared what I wore.

SEES LESSON IN KINDLINESS

I tumbled to the top of a London bus last night, not realizing that one hand wouldn't do. The conductor, or guard, or whatever you call him, came up for fares, (a penny by the way—two cents) and said most kindly, "You have to get used to it, Madam. It is a bit hard at first." The Bobbies are that way, too. Friendly no end. Not a grouch in a carload. Ah, me.

So are the waiters and the maids, and all the sisters and the cousins and the aunts. Here they don't care what you wear, and don't care what you do, but they do care if you are uncomfortable. And I know that when I go out a-seeing, Westminster Abbey, and the Tower, and Whitechapel, and so on, they won't be curious because I'm curious, and won't think me a bother because I ask questions. No, I've not gone Anglophile, but am merely trying to revamp my own psychology about things in life.

The children will have to go today, I fear. No lesson. Except that they might be happier if other children were not unkind or curious about the "different" clothes they happen to wear, and far, far happier if their own characteristics were respected and allowed for.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomfort from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Reducing Diet Needs Sufficient Proteins

By GLADYS GLAD

ARLINE JUDGE
Radiates youth and health

In the Lena basin of eastern Siberia, I am told, there is a race of Turkish people called Yakutes, who are renowned for their tremendous appetites. There is an adage among the Yakutes which says: "To eat much meat and grow fat upon it is the highest destiny of man." And the Yakutes uphold this adage.

The Yakutes, it seems, are basically a meat-eating race, and do not have any particular desire for fruits or vegetables. In most countries, however, when the Big Berthas who are forced to garb themselves in the generally not-so-chic creations of the "stylish stouts" department finally make up their minds to make over their bodies, one of the first things that they often do is to eliminate all meats from their daily diet. They become vegetarians in a big way. And they don't seem to realize that they are thus depriving their bodies of the proteins that they need for building, repairing and replacing cellular tissues.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are undeniably the foods of good health. I've written enough in the past about the values of these foods to make everyone of my readers conscious of their importance for health and beauty. But variety is one of the most important aspects of diet.

DIET NEEDS PROTEINS

Every reducing diet that is prolonged for any length of time should include sufficient of the protein foods to insure good health. Meats, eggs, cheese, nuts and milk are the foods that are richest in protein.

And meats are not fattening, ordinarily, if they are chosen wisely and cooked correctly. Only the lean meats should be selected. The fatty meats such as ham, bacon, roast pork, duck and goose should be avoided. And every visible bit of fat should be cut away from the selected cut of meat before it is cooked.

The most satisfactory way of cooking meats is by broiling, particularly when an individual is attempting to reduce. When you have cut all the fat away from your piece of meat, place it on your broiler. Have the bottom of the broiler in such a position that it will catch all the fatty drippings and juices. After the meat is cooked, allow the drippings to cool. And fat contained therein will then rise to the surface and congeal. Remove all the congealed fat and then pprepare your gravy with the greaseless juices. In this way, you will eliminate all the fattening elements of the selected meat, and yet retain the proteins essential to keep your diet well-balanced.

Being A Wife Is Good Job

Declares Marriage Is Best Profession

The Successful Wife Has to be a Combination Lawyer, Doctor, Nurse and Banker and Her Pay Is the Satisfaction of Doing All Tasks Well

A GROUP of professional and business women—a lawyer, a doctor, an interior decorator and the buyer for a big store—were discussing their various careers and the work, the hardships, the struggles as well as the thrills and triumphs and successes they had been through. Finally one of them turned to a quiet little woman, who had sat silently listening to the conversation, and asked: "And what do you do, my dear?"

"Oh," replied the woman, "I have a lovely job and a very highly paid one. Strangely enough, it is a sort of an amalgamation of every one of yours. I am a homemaker.

"Of course, I know that my occupation is not ranked among the learned professions. No girl thinks that she has to prepare herself for practicing it or giving it any serious study as she would law or medicine, or even stenography. She thinks it is a sort of a jack-leg trade that any feminine moron who hasn't brains enough to do anything else can follow.

"My labor doesn't even entitle me to a union card with a six-hour day and extra compensation for overtime work. I will never get a medal nor an honorable mention for making a grand success of my job. But all the same I maintain that I follow not only one of the oldest occupations in which my sex has ever engaged, but also the one for which it is best fitted, the one that requires the greatest diversity of talents and the one in which it is most successful and reaps the largest rewards.

"As I have said, my job comprises something of all of yours. As a homemaker I have to be something of an amateur interior decorator, or else my house would be a hideous conglomeration of misfit furniture and colors that swear at each other, instead of being a place of beauty as I have made it. I am no authority on Oriental rugs and period furniture, but I am a connoisseur on basement bargain cretonnes and as an auction hound I yield to no woman.

"I am not only a lawyer, but I am also a judge of a Supreme Court from which there is no appeal and, believe me, you have to be a second Solomon to settle the fights between children and determine which one started the scrimmage and whether Tommy was entitled to sock Jimmie in the eye for infringing on his rights, or whether Jimmie is the innocent victim of a brutal aggressor, and to tell whether Mamie ate up Sally's piece of pie by accident or with malice aforethought.

"I have to be a doctor and a trained nurse and a faith healer all rolled into one. I have to know what to do for the sniffles and all minor ailments, and be first aid to bruises and bumps and cuts and burns; to be able to tell when a child is really sick and need a doctor, or when he just doesn't want to go to school and needs a spanking. And I not only have to be able to pinch-hit for a trained nurse, but also to have the miraculous ability to kiss a place and make it well when a little toddler feels that he has been mortally wounded.

"I am a buyer who has to know her onions literally and figuratively. I have to know how to get value for my money because I must live within my budget. I must know about the nutritive values of food and the wearing qualities of clothes and where I can get the most for my money in order that my family may be properly fed and clothed. That is why I, and thousands of my sisters, run around from shop to shop comparing and pricing things, and it is why our children are so well dressed. Nobody stops to think about it, but we housewives are carrying around the trade of the world in our little handbags.

"And, in addition, I am a banker because I handle most of the money that my husband makes. I am a financier who makes $1 do the work of $5. And I am a sort of social secretary who keeps up the contacts with people we should know and who drags her boss out to dinners and parties and clubs where he makes new, agreeable and often profitable acquaintances and keeps people aware of him.

"So, you see, I have a lovely and interesting job, as I told you and a profitable one. It pays me, to begin with, a million per cent on my investment in effort and labor in the happiness I get out of my husband and children and home. And it pays me in actual money more than the average woman gets out of her profession in the outside world, for a woman has to work a long time at her job and be very successful before she can set up her own home and have a car and the financial security that even a moderately well-to-do husband gives her."

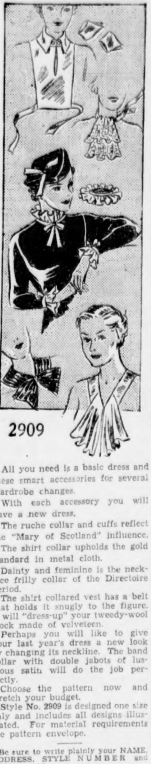
Ancient mariners had no way to keep food from spoiling, and scurvy took a huge toll, due to the absence of fresh food in the diet. Then green turtles, taken aboard at the beginning of long voyages, helped solve the problem.

What New York Is Wearing

By HELEN WILLIAMS



All you need is a basic dress and these smart accessories for several wardrobe changes.

With each accessory you will have a new dress.

The ruche collar and cuffs reflect the "Mary of Scotland" influence.

The shirt collar upholds the gold standard in metal cloth.

Dainty and feminine is the necklace frilly collar of the Directoire period.

The shirt collared vest has a belt that holds it snugly to the figure. It will "dress-up" your tweedy-wool frock made of velveteen.

Perhaps you will like to give your last year's dress a new look by changing its neckline. The band collar with double jabots of lustrous satin will do the job perfectly.

Choose the pattern now and stretch your budget.

General Suggestions on Fish Cookery

It does not follow because a woman is a good meat cook that she is equally expert at cooking fish unless she has made a special study of the same.

Fish does not require the slow cooking given to many varieties of meat as the connective tissue holding its fibres together are more gelatinous, very tender, and soften at once under the application of heat. It tastes much better cooked in half the time usually given in recipes; and, generally speaking, it is over cooked, with most of the juices extracted and dried out.

Fish which is to be cooked quickly in a hot oven should never have any water put in the pan. When water is added ,the fish steams and the juice runs out to join the water in the pan, leaving a tasteless, insipid fish and a highly flavored juice or gravy.

It is well for the housewife to ascertain whether the fish she is purchasing can be classed as a dry meated or an oily meated fish, for it makes a difference when it comes to the cooking. Generally speaking, such fish as cod, haddock ,pollock, hake, may be termed dry meated while the salmon, shad, mackerel, herring, lake trout, whitefish are rich and oily.

If the housekeeper is looking for a fish to boil, steam, stew, to make into a curried dish or cioppino, it is more satisfactory to purchase any of the dry meated varieties, for these will keep their shape and not go to pieces in the cooking process

For the quick modes of cooking by the hot oven method or baking in general, the oily fish are more delicious, and this is the best way to prepare them as, on account of their abundant oil, they will fall to pieces from their very richness if coked in a manner requiring much handling.

COOKING SUGGESTIONS

Generally speaking, fish is overcooked, its juices dried out, impairing its flavor and making all fish taste alike.

The albumenous part of fish may be likened to that of the white of egg. This is its protein constituent. Everyone knows that you can boil, poach or coddle an egge so that its white can be delicately soft and creamy and thus easy for the digestive juices to act upon. Or it may be cooked until the white is hard and tough. Soft and creamy when the albumenous substance is perfectly cooked—tough when it is overcooked. Whether it be fish or egg, the principle is the same.

Fish should be cooked until the albumenous substance is "set" and no more. When the white of an egg is set it is done. It is the same way with the fish.

Baking —Large Fish Whole

A three to five pound fish makes a splendid size for the average family. Any left-over portion offers many possibilities in delectable cocktails, croquettes, salads and sandwiches. Rub prepared fish generously inside and outside with salt. Fill with any desired stuffing, allowing for expansion during cooking. Sew with a string. Fish may be tied into a semi-circle or skewered into the shape of the letter "S". An oiled cheesecloth placed under the fish makes it easier to remove the baked fish to a platter without breaking. Brush with oil and place fish in a very hot oven (500 degrees F.) to sear for the first ten minutes. Reduce the temperature (450 degrees F.) and continue cooking, allowing ten minutes for the first four pounds and five minutes for each additional pound. Remove to a hot platter, draw out the string without tearing fish and serve at once wtih any desired sauce.

Cooking Short Cuts

Fish odor, if objectionable, can be prevented by wrapping fish in parchment or oiled paper for cooking.

Of odor permeates through rooms it can be dissipated by burning sugar on a pan. This gives the delightful aroma of caramel.

After frying fish pour ½ cup of vinegar in the pan and let burn. This frees the utensil of all grease and spreads an aroma of caramel.

Fish can be skinned easily by dipping (for a short time only) in boiling water. This loosens the skin so that it can be readily removed.

Wash hands in strong salt water to remove any odor of fish.

Fat for frying and sauteing fish may be either lard, drippings, or the vegetable fats or oils. There is little choice between them. Vegetable fats and oils do not take on a fish odor to any extent and they may stand a slightly higher temperature before smoking than the animal fats. Butter is not good for such use because of its low smoking point.

Milk is effective in overcoming saltiness when cooking salt fish

fish is a health food

Health . . . yes . . . because Canadian Fish and Shellfish are exceedingly effective health-building foods . . . with their richness in proteins, in Vitamins A and D, in minerals and in that invaluable element, iodine. But health is only one advantage of Fish. There is tastiness . . . the varied flavour of over sixty different kinds of fish for a limitless series of enjoyable meals. And there is economy . . . the sound thrift of a food that gives you full value in healthful nourishment for every cent you spend.

Make "Any Day a Fish Day". Serve Canadian Fish and Shellfish more often. Whether seafood or fresh water fish...whether you like it fresh, frozen, canned, smoked, pickled or dried . . . you can be confident of its prime quality . . . of a flavour that has made Canadian fish famous in the markets of the world.

SALUTE TO Love

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATE and CAROLINE MEED live on a farm, Meed Meadows, with their indolent, lovable grandfather, MAJOR SAM MEED, and two old Negro servants, ALTHY and ZEKE. Kate is engaged to MORGAN PRENTISS, who neglects her for EVE ELWELL, beautiful and wealthy.

Major Meed loses the farm to JEFF HOWARD, a bitter young mountaineer. Kate hates Jeff for taking their home and treats him insolently, but he falls in love with her. In desperate need of money, Kate sells her beloved horse, Brown Boy, to a neighbor. Later she finds that Jeff Howard has bought the hourse and her resentment toward Jeff increases.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV

WHEN Saturday came Caroline got out baking materials and spread them over the kitchen table as usual. She tried to do it unobtrusively, for she feared that Kate would cause trouble. During the past two days Jeff Howard's name had not been spoken between them and Kate had ceased to talk of Brown Boy. Yet the grim expression of Kate's tense young face did not suggest forgiveness or neighborly love.

Walking into the kitchen when Caroline was sifting flour, she looked at her accusingly, "That not for Jeff Howard, is it?"

"Why, yes," Caroline answered. "I thought I'd make him a butterscotch pie and cocoanut cake, for a change of flavors. You needn't help me. Althy's going to mix the butter and sugar."

Kate said, "We'll make nothing more in this house for Jeff Howard."

"Don't be a fool," Caroline implored. "We clear $3 a week from our sales to that man. He's our only regular customer."

"I don't care what we clear. We're through with him, Caroline! We should never have had any dealings with him. It should've been lesson enough to us when he took our home."

"Oh, for heaven's sake, Kate! That was a legitimate business deal. He held the mortgage and we couldn't pay. What could you expect Mr. Howard to do? Eat the papers?"

"He needn't have crowed over us," Kate replied. "He needn't have boasted and sneered and rubbed his own back. He's hated me from the first, Caroline, and he knows I return it. He got hold of poor Brown Boy just to tread me a little deeper into the dust!"

"You're being melodramatic, Kate," Caroline said wearily. "But, granting what you say is true, why toss up his order when we need the money we get out of it?"

"Because I won't be indebted to the creature, Caroline. I don't believe he really wants the stuff. He takes it because it tickles his vanity to have the Meeds cooking for him. Caroline, let me tell you something! Zeke asked me yesterday why Mr Howard buys beaten biscuits to feed to the chickens! He said he's seen broken biscuits scattered to the chickens every time he's been over there."

"Our biscuits?" asked Caroline in blank surprise.

"Whose else? Does that look as if he's buying our baked goods to eat it? No, I tell you! It's another of his mockeries. He's put us on his charity list, and then sits back and gloats over it. I'll not be indebted to him, Caroline! I'll never ask another favor of him as long as I live!"

Caroline saw that Kate was in earnest. She shrugged and began to put away flour and baking powder and cake pans. "All right," she said, "I'll send him word we're going out of business. But I think it's something like the poor man who said he intended to hang himself and somebody asked what he'd do for a rope. He said he'd make it out of pride, because pride's stronger than hemp."

Kate might have been benefited by this fable if something had not occurred to drive it from her mind. On the living room table was an open newspaper which her grandfather had just laid down. Glancing through it before starting to dust the room, she came on the announcement of Eve Elwell's engagement to Morgan Prentiss. The wedding would be in October. Kate had expected this to happen, yet it was shocking to come upon it in cold black print. The news was already a day old.

That evening at supper she was conscious of tender solicitation on the part of Caroline and Major Meed. She said, "For goodness sake, stop watching me with soft-boiled eyes! I'm bearing up very nicely, thank you. I was expecting it. Only I thought they'd elope and not bother with a formal engagement."

"Eve would have to have a big wedding," Caroline said with a shade of bitterness. Her heart was heavy with resentment, for Kate's sake. Granted that Kate had ceased to love Morgan, as she claimed she had, had he not caused her love to die through his neglect? And there was the way the affair would look to others. Caroline writhed at the thought of it. Kate in the role of the jilted girl!

Major Meed poured skimmed milk over a baked apple and remarked with admirable philosophy, "You'll find yourself better off without him, Kate. Just the way I find myself better off without Hyacinth's cream. Too rich a mixture."

Kate laughed and the tension was relieved. "I suppose the town's buzzing," she said. . . . "I believe I'll go to church tomorrow. Looking my best. Wearing a perfectly pleasant expression."

"That's the spirit," said her grandfather. "Take one of your other beaus with you."

Kate and Caroline exchanged amused glances. It was one of Major Meed's fond and gallant illusions that countless young men were in love with his granddaughters, ready to kneel at the crook of a finger.

Yet Kate did have an escort next day. She encountered Johnnie Baird coming from the postoffice, and carelessly invited him to accompany her.

"Don't care if I do," Johnnie decided. "Haven't been to church since Easter. By the way, do I look all right?"

"You look fine," Kate told him. "But let's not be late."

It was a comfort, she found, to be escorted to the family pew by Johnnie. After all, he had been rather attentive to her once and she had been fond of him, before Morgan had supplanted him.

"Could I," she wondered, while Johnnie's good tenor voice rang out over a hymn book, "manage to catch him again? . . . And could I fall for him if I did? It would save my pride. . . . Johnnie's kind. Not a pauper, either. . . ."

Yet when, that night, Johnnie came driving out to Rickety House, bringing Cynthia Chenault and two young men and melons enough for a party, Kate felt no elation. "Here I am," Johnnie's eyes told her, "ready to begin again where we left off—ready to step into Morgan's shoes—"

While the others arranged themselves on pillows on the porch steps, Kate and Johnnie walked down the star-lit road. "I've always had a weakness for country roads in the dark," he said. "What smells so sweet?"

"August lilies," Kate told him. "There's a clump in bloom just over by the fence. Don't pay any attention to them. They'd make a rock sentimental."

Johnnie lit a cigaret and said huskily, "I could get that way if you'd let me—"

"Some other time, Johnnie," Kate said quicky. "Not tonight. Let's just be crazy tonight. Let's make limericks, the way we used to."

"Limericks!" Johnnie protested. "Why did I ever get myself a reputation for those things?" A horse neighed in the pasture. "Is that Brown Boy?" Johnnie wanted to know.

"No," Kate replied shortly. "Go on, Johnnie. Make a limerick. Make one about—about—King Carol of Rumania."

Johnnie looked up at the stars, inhaled and presently chanted, slowly and obediently:

"See Carol in gold lace and saber
Reviewing his army. What labor!
He never fatigues us,
In fact, he intrigues us,
And so does his red-headed neighbor."

The old game was on, and Kate kept the star-lit walk down the lark road free from sentiment. It was not unti they were entering the yard that Johnnie said quickly, "I meant to tell you, Kate—I'd like to take Morgan's place if you'll let me. If you feel the need of somebody, I mean, to fetch and carry for you—"

Kate felt a surge of gratitude at the almost tactful way in which Johnnie was trying to readjust their relationship, disposing of Morgan, yet not ignoring him. She answered, "Thank you, Johnnie. A girl does need someone around. I'm not in love with Morgan any more, but I'll miss him. He was a swell beau."

"But a squirrel, Kate!" It was an old local expression, conveying traits better left unspoken.

"Just a squirrel,55 Kate agreed. She said it decisively, so that Morgan Prentiss stood tried and condemned in the court of their reason.

Johnnie Baird, in the week that followed, did not conceal the fact that he was renewing his courtship of Kate Meed. Everyone seemed glad, so Kate tried to feel glad, too.

"Can I bear to marry him?" she asked herself. By way of experiment she let herself be kissed by him, hoping to find the answer there. But, while the process was not repellent, neither was it thrilling. Because it was not thrilling she was impatient with both herself and Johnnie.

Johnnie found the kiss stimulating enough. He repeated it with increasing ardor. "I'm crazy about you, Kate," he said. "I don't know when I wasn't. Will you marry me? Please, Kate! We could beat Morgan and Eve to it. Let's, Kate!"

"Good old Johnnie," she thought gratefully. "Wanting to save my pride almost as much as he wants to marry me. Good old Johnnie. Why can't I?"

Yet something stronger than reason made her lift her hands to his chest and push him away. "I can't, Johnnie. I simply can't. The bad luck's mine, but I can't get the right reaction." She spoke with the flippancy of modern youth, but she was deadly in earnest.

Johnnie said impatiently, "Somebodys standing in my light, blotting me out. Morgan, of course. Still Morgan! How long before he fades out, Kate?"

Kate let him think the shadow between them was Morgan. She let herself think it. She was afraid to face the truth.

He was boring the young lady to tears when in came her dog.

"Ah," he exclaimed, "have you taught him any tricks since I was here last?"

"Yes," she said sweetly. "If you whistle he will bring your hat."

New Scope Makes Visual Inspection Of Stomach Easy

OTTAWA, Nov. 2—Dr. Paul H. Thorlakson, assistant professor of clinical surgery at the Univer- of Manitoba, predicts further development of a modern technique for visual observation of the stomach walls which would eliminate almost entirely necessity for exploratory operations in cases of gastric disease.

The Winnipeg scientist addressed the Royal College of Physicians and surgeons here Saturday.

INSPECT STOMACH

He described use of an instrument known as a gastro-scope, a sort of periscope that can be introduced into the stomach, tried first on a German sword-swallower in 1868. Through it visual examination can be made for diagnosis of such diseases as gastritis, stomach ulcers and cancer of the stomach.

Through the instrument, he said, five cases of stomach ulcer had been detected by himself and his associates in 121 cases where X-ray examination produced negative results.

He declared the instrument would be particularly valuable in detecting early stages of stomach cancer, a disease from which 3,000 persons die annually in Canada.

However, he added, it is necessary for the public to become educated to realize the possible serious significance of indigestion in the early stages of stomach disorder arising during the "cancer-age" of 45-60.

EMPTY STOMACH

The gastroscopic technique is designed to supplement but not replace other forms of diagnosis.

In examination the instrument is introduced through the mouth and throat into the empty stomach which is then inflated with air to separate the walls and prevent their clinging to the object glass of the gastroscope.

Variations are noted from the healthy appearance, which is orange-red and glistening and lesions such as ulcers or cancerous growths can be seen.

No general anaesthetic is necessary for the examination.

"We have no hesitancy in predicting that with improvements in the mechanical construction of the instrument and wider experience of the operator, operations for intrinsic lesions of the stomach will in the future seldom be necessary," Dr. Thorlakson's paper said.

Dr. C. F. Huskins of McGill University, said cancer appears to originate in some animals through interaction of certain hereditary and environmental factors, a condition that might apply also to human beings.

TAR PRODUCTS

Dr. Huskins, professor of genetics at McGill, discussed experiments in cancer research undertaken on mice.

Among external agencies that cause cancer, he said, are tar and tar products when applied continuously for considerable periods. Purified chemical extracts also are known that act rapidly in production of cancer.

In fowl and rabbits, he explained, Rockefeller Foundation workers had found certain filterable viruses may cause cancer, although the cancer is not produced immediately.

36 Mounties Depart for Big New York Display

OTTAWA, Nov. 2—A troop of 36 Royal Canadian Mounted Police left here yesterday for New York where they will take part in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

Men just a few months out of lonely Arctic posts have been looking forward to their New York visit for weeks and the famous scarlet and blue uniforms, high boots, broad-brimmed hats and other equipment have been polished and burnished for days.

Horses had to undergo special training such as having bags of cans thrown in front of them, and listened to engine backfire, shouts and applause, so that they would not show a flicker of shyness at the noise and excitement of New York streets or Garden crowds.

The whole unit will be at its best for the commissioner of the R.C.M.P., Sir James MacBrien, will be at the National Horse Show as a judge.

In command is one of the youngest officers in the force, Captain T. A. Belcher, who was born "in the force" and worked his way up from the ranks. His father is former Deputy Commissioner T. S. Belcher. Staff Sergt. Soame and Sergt.-Major Clifford are veteran non-commissioned officers each with nearly 25 years' service, much of that time in far northern posts.

Long Separation

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Sister Mary Pius, mother superior of a Dominican convent at New Orleans, La., and her brother, John McMullen, were reunited here for the first time in 47 years when McMullen fell sick.

France Bars Rex Leader

youthful leader of the Belgian Rex movement and known as the Belgian Hitler, was denied entry into France when he attempted to cross the Franco-Belgian border. He was to have addressed French Fascists.

STAN LAUREL AGAIN SUED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2—Another woman sued Stan Laurel, film comedian, for separate maintenance Saturday.

His wife, Mrs. Virginia Ruth Laurel, recently sued him for separate maintenance of $1,235 a month.

The new suit is by Mrs. Mae Laurel, a federal theatre project player, who said she and Laurel lived together as man and wife from 1919 to 1925. She asked $1,000 a month separate maintenance and $10,000 for her lawyers, and an equitable division of property she contended they accumulated together. She estimated the value of the property at $125,500. She said Laurel left her in January, 1925.

Vancouver Slayers' Appeal Is Refused

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2.—Chief Justice Aulay Morrison in supreme court Saturday refused to grant reprieves in the cases of Charles Russell and Earl Dunbar, sentenced to be hanged next Friday for the murder of William Hobbs, bank teller.

Appeal will be made to the department of justice for a stay of execution for Russell, pending a request for a new trial. The supreme court of Canada has not yet ruled on Dunbar's case.

MANY ISSUES WILL CONFRONT VOTERS IN U.S.

Filling Of High Offices Not Only Task Of Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—Proposals for various states to join in the social security program of the Roosevelt administration head in importance scores of questions being put before voters in Tuesday's United States election.

Other decisions to be reached in state referenda cover a wide territory including how to get money for state government; duties of state employees and reorganization of administration.

TIME IS ISSUE

Chicago will vote on whether the city shall have: (1) central time; (2) central time with daylight time in the summer, or (3) shall eastern time be standard.

Oklahoma seeks repeal of its prohibition of liquor with substitution of state control; North Dakota proposes sale and taxing of liquor while California and Texas plan reorganization of liquor sales laws.

Eight states seeking constitutional changes to join in the federal security program are South Carolina, Oregon, Nevada, Louisiana, Kansas, Florida, Washington and Colorado.

TAX PROBLEMS

Straightening out of taxation problems is sought in Washington, South Dakota, Missouri, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Georgia, Nebraska, Maryland, North Carolina, West Virgina and Texas.

Oregon and Washington are voting on plans for these states to go into the power business; Louisiana will approve or reject making the late Senator Huey Long's birthday a holiday.

Workmen's compensation, judicial practices, local indebtedness and bond issues are before various states.

New York will settle if a convention should be called to amend the state compensation.

Arkansas will decide if professional immunity should be extended to editors and reporters.

An issue of $15,000,000 bonds for flood control will be passed on in Washington, while Montana will decide whether or not to establish an eight-hour day by law in all industries except farming.

HASTY MARRIAGES

Montana is ending its "in marriage" law back to the voters. The law seeks to prevent hasty marriages by forcing a medical examination but doctors balked because failure to make the proper examination became a felony with loss of license to practice.

Altogether, the "Daily Bond Buyer" reported, $149,000,000 is involved in referenda. Statte and civic bond issues ranging from $30,000,000 New York unemployment relief project down to $200,000 addition to a Nanticoke, Pa., high school, will be decided.

Among important proposed issues are a $30,000,000 project for a state highway and a bridge at Baton Rouge, La., a $5,000,000 plan for a highway around Ponchartrian and a $20,000,000 gasoline tax issue for public improvements in New Orleans.

BOTH PARTIES CONFIDENT ON EVE OF POLL

Newest Straw Vote Shows Upswing For Democrat Cause

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—With impressive outward confidence the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican national committees today predicted victory for their respective parties in the United States election Tuesday.

Democratic Chairman James Farley said President Roosevelt would be re-elected by a larger electoral college vote than in 1932 when he polled 472 votes against 59 for Herbert Hoover.

OPPOSITE MIND

Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican committee was of an exactly opposite mind. He placed Governor Alf Landon's "absolute minimum" in the electoral college at 320 votes.

Straw vote polls, conducted by several different methods, presented a confusing picture.

Latest of the major polls to be released, that of the American Institute of Public Opinion, gave President Roosevelt 55.7 per cent. of the total major party vote.

DEMO UPSWING

This poll recorded a Democratic upswing the past week and predicted a minimum electoral college poll of 315 votes for the president.

The Literary Digest straw vote, a trustworthy barometer in previous elections, predicted a Landon victory with 370 electoral votes. This poll has been criticized because 51 per cent. of those it balloted were Hoover votes in 1932.

LOAN DEFAULT BY PROVINCE NOW OFFICIAL

No Funds Are Available to Meet Maturing Bonds As Banks Open

Alberta officially defaulted on its $1,250,000 six per cent maturity, due on November 1, when the banks opened at 10 a.m. on Monday and no funds were available to meet the amount.

Interest was available under the reduced rate of interest resulting from the proclamation of the Act reducing interest on all Alberta securities to not more than three per cent. This act was proclaimed effective as from June 1.

CANADA BANK REFUSES

On Saturday, Premier William Aberhart announced, following receipt of a wire from the Bank of Canada refusing the necessary money to meet the maturity, that there appeared nothing to do but default. No further developments took place over the week-end.

Interviewed on Monday morning, the Premier said that he had received no intimation of any change in attitude on behalf of the bank. The first default in Alberta was on April 1 when the province failed to meet a maturity of $3,200,000. Interest was paid.

Hearing of the appeal against the decision of Mr. Justice Frank Ford awarding Peter Wandeleer, Edmonton, $1930 for injuries received when a truck he was riding in crashed into a loaded oil tank truck owned by the Edmonton Oil Co., and which was parked by the roadside near Kavanagh, opened in the Appellate division Monday morning with Chief Justice H. Harvey, Mr. Justices Lunney and MacGillivray on the bench. The accident occurred on October 22, 1934. The case is still proceeding.

PRESIDENT OF PACKING FIRM IS OPTIMISTIC

J. S. McLean Here For Official Opening of Canada Packers Plant

Reporting a strong upward trend in business, particularly during the past three months, due largely to the fact that there is an increased demand for skilled mechanical labor the world over, J. S. McLean, Toronto, president of Canada Packers, Limited, arrived in Edmonton Monday morning to take part in the official opening of the company's new packing house in North Edmonton on Wednesday.

Mr. McLean declared that one important factor in the forward movement was that heavy industries are all busy at the present time. For instance, the United States steel industry was running about 80 per cent capacity now as against only 40 per cent a year ago. The steel industry in Canada is also very active, which would indicate a general advance toward normal industrial and business levels.

FIVE IN PARTY

Mr. McLean is accompanied by Mrs. McLean, his mother, Mrs. Wm. McLean of Port Hope, his sister, Miss Anna McLean of Port Hope, and Mrs. N. J. McLean, wife of N. J. McLean, general manager of Canada Packers. The party will remain in Edmonton until after the official opening of the Edmonton plant and will then return to the east.

The Canada Packers' president was enthusiastic about the prospects facing the company's new Edmonton plant. "The plant is now operating at normal and is ready to handle our share of the fall run of livestock," he said.

"I expect the run will be quite heavy for the next two months and there will be as much as all plants can handle going at full capacity."

COMPLETELY SATISFIED

Mr. McLean expressed his complete satisfaction with the construction of the new plant and announced he was desirous of having the general public inspect the premises on opening day, Wednesday.

"We have endeavored to make this new addition to Edmonton industry the finest of its kind in Canada, and I am sure our plant will be capable of producing the finest products of the kind in the country," he said.

Mr. McLean made an inspection of the plant Monday morning with W. B. Tranter, plant manager, and conferred on final arrangements for the opening.

HUDSON MOTOR FIRM AIMS AT SUPER SERVICE

Murray Biggar, Assistant Sales Manager, Attending Meeting Here

Establishing of super service throughout Canada for the Hudson-Terraplane Motors is one of the chief objectives of the company for the coming season, stated Murray Biggar, assistant sales manager Hudson (Canada) Corporation, Tilbury, who arrived in Edmonton on Monday for a two-day conference with dealers and service men in northern Alberta.

Sales in 1936 were well ahead of 1935, stated Mr. Biggar, the company leading the field in percentage of increase in the motor industry. Indications for 1937 would indicate the greatest sale year since the depression, according to Mr. Biggar.

NEW MODELS

New models of the Hudson and Terraplane, which will be on view at Freeman's showrooms, are larger, roomier and longer than last year, there being an increase of five and a half inches in the width of the front seat. This gives ample room to seat three in this compartment, he said.

Another feature of the new cars will be the increase in horsepower. Although this has been stepped up considerably, stated Mr. Biggar, engineers in tests have found that the new engine will afford a 10 per cent fuel saving. "This seems impossible in the face of the step-up of horsepower, but the tests are such there is no doubt our engineers have accomplished this," stated Mr. Biggar.

BODY DIES CHANGED

The company has changed every body die on the new cars, but to a marked degree have retained the lines of the 1935 models. Considerably more has been spent on tooling, it being the belief of the company that general economic conditions warrant the manufacture of higher priced cars.

The company will cover from the medium low to the high priced field, having in all five range prices.

Mr. Biggar is accompanied by J. F. Green, Tilbury, field service supervisor for the corporation, and Stanley Alten, Calgary, divisional superintendent for western Canada.

Detroit recently repealed a 10-mile-an-hour speed limit for horses.

WELL BLOWS IN AT WAINWRIGHT

Report has been received here that the old Emerald well, some six miles north of Wainwright blew in Saturday with a gas flow estimated at 20,000,000 cubic feet.

As a result of this report C. W Dingman of the provincial department of lands and mines has left for Wainwright to investigate the news.

This well had been closed down for five or six years and the casing left in it. A few weeks ago the casing was bought by another company and, while they were pulling it out, the well blew in.

All equipment was cleared away for fear of a fire starting. Just across the road is the Edmonton-Wainwright well and great care is being taken as a fire might also catch this property.

Mrs. W. M. Kitchener, of Calgary, who is in Edmonton to attend the funeral of her father, the late Samuel Bauer, is at the home of Mrs. D. Mair, 123 street.

MAN HURT WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

E. J. Aden, 7307 106 street, suffered head abrasions, a large bruise on his left hip, severe shock and other body bruises when he was knocked down by a truck, driven by Robert Grans, Leduc, on the Calgary highway, near 53 avenue, on Friday.

Walking south on the left side of the road Mr. Aden was struck from the rear by the truck which swerved left to avoid striking another object on the highway.

Mr. Aden was taken to the south side police station by a motorist who was coming into the city from Leduc. He was attended by Dr. F. S. MacPherson.

REGINA ELIMINATES WINNIPEGS WITH 20-5 WIN

LOOKING THEM OVER

By JACK KELLY

Regina Probably Won the Dominion Title Saturday—M'Sieu Tebo Arrives—Kayoes Bear

THERE may be something lower than the spirits of Winnipeg's football fans today—but you'll have to excavate to find it. And by the same token you will need a stratosphere outfit to get up where the Reginans are. When the Roughriders galloped through the Blue Bombers on Saturday they made Canadian gridiron history that will be recalled with a thrill for years to come. What is more, the Dominion championship was probably decided out there on that wind-swept grid in Winnipeg. True enough, the Roughriders have still to take on Moose Jaw Millers and Calgary Bronks before they even enter the Dominion final, but our old colleague Harry Scott of the Calgary Albertan is about the only one who seriously believes the Bronks will stop Regina.

However, in deference to Harry's opinion, we'll say that the Riders are western champs if they can take the Bronks. What eastern outfit then is going to halt these Regina roughies? It's always hard to rate a team from the other side of the continent, but so far no eastern team has shown enough power to make any of the sport writers optimistic about getting the championship back. There seems to be a general feeling that the east kissed the title goodbye when they barred American imports.

These same imports are likely to be the centre of a semi-final battle between the east and west since five of Regina's players have not been resident in Canada for a year. However, no western teams objected to them, and the east would be wise to merely lodge a formal protest to keep their stand consistent and then go ahead and play for the Dominion title. If they win it will be O.K. If they lose they can truthfully say it was imported talent that beat them. Nobody in the west will worry much about that.

There are plenty of Winnipeg supporters who feel that the Blue Bombers have an edge on the Roughriders and who back up this by pointing out that it was fumbles that beat them. That is true enough, but unfortunately playoff football in western Canada must be staged under winter conditions and it's the team that can keep its collective fingers from getting as stiff as pokers that generally wins. The astute Al Ritchie may have had a pail of live coals beside the Regina bench Saturday afternoon to thaw out digits. If he didn't, it would be a swell idea anyhow.

What we really need is a steam-heated grid. Ask Varsity's Golden Bears and the Saskacthewan Huskies. Every player who went into that game Saturday should get a couple of team letters and a fur coat for his heroism. The letters might well be on a background of icebergs and snow igloos with a dog team rampant.

Tebo Comes To Town

LAST night Jack Tebo, the Fairview Fury, who will battle Ford Smith here Wednesday, drops in on us and right away we take a decided liking for this fighter. Tanned the color of a buckskin jacket from a summer and fall of hunting and fishing, he's got a flashing smile and a boisterous fund of humor that are bound to make him a favorite with the fans. If he ever climbs to the title, he'll be the most popular since Dempsey. However, he's not worrying about that—or anything else in fact. He's just a happy-go-lucky fellow having a whale of a time. You can't imagine him worrying about a fight the night before and that's an ideal temperament.

According to all the rules of the game, sport writers are supposed to ask fighters how they feel and what they think about the man they are billed to battle. However, when we asked Tebo what he had been doing and he told us "hunting and fishing," we forgot the rest of the questions and took him in as a blood brother.

Inside of a minute we're swapping yarns and he launches into the story of how he captured a pair of cub bears this summer with the aid of a couple of pals, one of whom had grave misgivings about the wisdom of monkeying around bears—young or old.

It was after the she-bear had been given a ticket to the Happy Hunting Ground of bears that Tebo discovered the two cubs at the top of a fire-killed spruce. It was at least 30 feet high and to get the cubs down was no small problem. At last Tebo decided to climb after them, leaving his two pals to hold his jacket stretched out below like a fireman's life net. With the thin tree top bending dangerously under the weight of himself and the cubs, he finally grabbed one by his hind leg, gave him a quick jerk that pulled him loose, and then dropped him toward the out-stretched jacket.

The cub landed on its feet like a cat on the jacket and straightway made a snap at one of Tebo's ground crew. Both pals knocked over a couple of trees in their hurry to leave. The cub promptly vanished into a thicket.

Tebo finally got his ground crew recalled and dropped the second cub into the jacket. This little bear was a timid soul and was quickly tied up. Then they went after the belligerent cub. With his back to a tree, he reared up and squared off to fight it out. They tried to lasso him with pack straps, but it was no dice. Finally Tebo decided to swap punches with him. He feinted with his left. The cub lunged at it and Tebo cracked him squarely behind the ear with his right. The bear rolled over and took the count. When he came to he was hog-tied.

Tough On Cafes

THE Fairview fighter kept both of the cubs through the summer for pets. The timid one followed him around the streets like a dog and conducted himself like a model citizen until he discovered that the insides of cafes were filled with candies and ice cream. He then made life a nightmare for the good Chinese of the town. Time after time the citizens were brought rushing out into the street by a furious uproar of shrill Chinese curses and deep bass bear growls only to discover that it was just Tebo's bear with his head firmly planted in a can of ice-cream belonging to a wild-eyed Celestial.

"I hated to do it, but I finally had to get rid of that cub," Tebo concluded sadly. "She was as smart as any dog, but I never could make her understand that the Chinks' ice-cream and candy weren't on her menu—but then I never tried very hard either," he added with his infectious grin.

University Of Saskatchewan Huskies Capture Hardy Trophy With 3-2 Victory Over Alberta

Margin Slight On Snow-Clad Grid Saturday

Take Series 8-5, Having Won First Game 5-3 In Saskatoon

Showing a slight superiority in line play and tackling and proving themselves a little more sure-handed in the handling of the ice-covered pig-skin, University of Saskatchewan Huskies plunged, slipped and fumbled to a 3-2 victory over the University of Alberta Golden Bears in the second and final game of a two-game series for possession of the Hardy trophy at the snow-covered Varsity grid Saturday afternoon.

Huskies defeated the Bears at Saskatchewan two weeks ago by a 5-3 score, and Saturday's victory gives them the series with an 8-5 score.

They left the city Sunday for Vancouver where they will play the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds for the Western Canadian Intercollegiate championship, and the Hardy trophy.

THIRD IN ROW

This is the third time in three years that the Huskies have beaten the Alberta team. So sure were they of victory that they bought their tickets to Vancouver when they left Saskatoon, confident that they would take the Alberta team in their stride.

Despite the fact that the game was held up until the snow shovellers completed their task of taking the upper crust of snow from the field, a frozen crowd turned out, and despite the coldness of the day, the snow on the grid and the coating of ice that continued to form on the ball, the game was exciting from start to finish, and the result uncertain until the final whistle blew.

The game was marked with many fumbles, cold hands and icy leather making a butterfinger combination that broke the hearts of players on both sides, and left coaches and supporters on the sidelines gasping and in tears. Alberta tried three forwards, and although all three reached the receiver, in each case he was unable to retain his grasp on the slippery, cold ball. Saskatchewan tried only two, one of which was intercepted by Don Masson, and the other was incomplete.

RECOVERED FUMBLE

Saskatchewan got their first point when recovering a fumble early in the second half of the game, they began a march toward the Varsity goal line. They kicked, and Alberta caught the ball on their own five yard line. Saskatchewan regained the ball on Varsity's 30 yard line. Weaver kicked to the deadline for one point.

With the score board showing 1-0 against them, Varsity dug deeper into the snow and it looked as though Wilson, Wares, Bruce MacDonald and Woywitka were going to take the ball all the way down the field for points. About centre field, however, following disputes and measurements with the yardsticks, Varsity lost the ball on downs.

Saskatchewan forced the play again, and despite nice running and interference by Wilson and Wares forced the Bears back nearer and nearer to their own line. An exchange of kicks found the Bears in possession of the ball on their own five yard line.

SCORE SAFETY TOUCH

Henricks snapped the ball out to Wilson, who was standing about eight yards behind the goal line. But the icy oat slipped out of his hand and he fell on it for a safety touch just as the whole Saskatchewan team landed on him. The score was now 3-0 for Saskatchewan.

The third quarter was Saskatchewan's. Alberta came back in the fourth, but not far enough. Shortly after the beginning of the final frame, a fumble on a third down cost the Saskatchewan team the ball and Varsity took it on the Saskatchewan 25-yard line. Wares went through for first down. Alberta's ball on Saskatchewan's 15-yard line. An attempted forward was incomplete. Then Wilson tried a[illegible] kick, and Wares brought down Jack Bellis before he could [illegible] the ball out from behind the line.

From then on play was [illegible]. Play surged back and forth. Finally Wilson returned a [illegible] the Saskatchewan [illegible] another single point. There was no more scoring.

Earl Hits N.H.L.

Picked by writers and managers as the topnotch goalie in the International League last season, Earl Robertson, Windsor Bulldogs' cage guardian gets his chance in senior company this season. He was bought from the Bulldogs last spring by Detroit Redwings. Toronto Maple Leafs were looking the Bulldog goalie over but finally purchased his finalist rival, Walter Broda from Detroit Olympics. Robertson was born in Bengough, Sask., started his career with the famed Regina Pats, turned pro. with Victoria in the Pacific Coast league and reached Windsor via Edmonton Eskimos. He is 25 years old.

Red Wings Sweep Series For Detroit City Title

Defeat Olympics 2 to 1 In Third Game of Series For 8 Goal Lead

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—Making a clean sweep, Detroit Red Wings edged out Detroit Olympics 2-1 in the third struggle last night to win the city hockey championship.

Olympics, International League champions last year, leave for Pittsburg today where they become the Hornets of the new International-American League.

The Stanley cup holders and world champions won the first tilt 5-3 and the second 6-1, to hold a seven-goal lead at the start of the battle last night.

ROBERTSON IN NETS

Ron Hudson scored in the first period for the minor leaguers on a combination play with Wilf Starr. Wings tied the struggle in the second session when Gordon Pettinger passed out from behind the O's net to Bud Bruneteau, who banged one past Goalie Earl Robertson from short range. Robertson, former Windsor Bulldog, played in the nets for the O's in the second period and Red Wings in the third.

In a lightning-fast last period, Johnny Sorrell gave the National Leaguers victory on a solo dash. Franks, an amateur from Melville, Sask., was signed last fall by Detroit.

"Keep Same Lineup As Last Year"—Adams

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings announced last night his team would start their National Hockey League season against Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday with the same club that beat the Leafs for the world's championship and the Stanley cup last winter. For the first time in the club's history no member of Detroit Olympics, Wings' International League farm team last season, made a place on the big squad. Adams said he was pleased with the efforts of Forwards John Sherf and Don Deacon, and Rearguard Orville Roulston.

Jack Adams

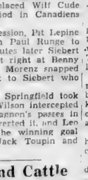
"They have shown major league ability," the pudgy mentor said. "but they don't quite show enough, yet at least, to justify me breaking up the line of Wally Kilrea, Pete Kelly, Johnny Sorrell and Mud Bruneteau."

It was also announced Goalie Hal Mitchell, last year with a Detroit amateur club, would be spare netminder for the season, getting the first call.

In addition the following will make up the Hornets' roster: Defencemen, Jimmy Orlando, Orville Roulston, Bill Williams and Fred Hergert. Forwards, Don Deacon, Bill Hudson, Ron Hudson, Johnny Sherf, Howard Mackie, Art Giroux, Carl Liscombe, Clarence Drouillard and Wilf Starr.

Cecil Hart Faces Hard Work as Canadiens Defeated Again

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Plenty of hard work was in store for Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League this week, as Manager Cecil Hart sought to condition his players, who Saturday absorbed their second straight defeat from the International - American team Springfield Indians 3-2 In Ottawa Thursday Springfield trounced Canadiens 6-1.



C. Hart

Alex Smith, coming out of retirement this year, sent Springfield on their way in the first period, when, with Tommy Filmore, he broke away from a Canadien attack to score on Paul Authier, who replaced Wilf Cude early in the period in Canadiens goal.

In the second session, Pit Lepine took a pass from Paul Runge to score. A few minutes later Siebert drove a hard shot right at Benny Grant and Howie Morenz snapped the rebound back to Siebert who scored.

After that goal, Springfield took command. Hub Wilson intercepted one of Johnny Gagnon's passes in the third and converted it, and Leo Lafrance scored the winning goal on passes from Jack Toupin and Maxie Bennett.

Ploughs And Cattle Held Shore Back; To Play Game Tonight

HALIFAX, Nov. 2.—Eddie Shore cast a speculative eye yesterday over the Boston Bruins while they went through a light workout here.

"Looks like a great bunch" he remarked while he practised with the National Hockey League team for the first time this year, his 11th with the Boston club.

Shore will be playing here tonight for the Bruins in an exhibition game against Maroons. The Alberta farmer arrived Saturday.

"I never intended holding out," he said, explaining his lateness in joining the Bruins' training tour. "But the ploughs and cattle had to be put up for the winter before I could devote thought to hockey."

Meteors cannot be seen until they enter the earth's atmosphere and become heated by friction.

Regina Certain Clover, Heather Brought Breaks

Riders Wore Irish Luck Charms In Crucial Game

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2.—Roughriders returned to their Regina bailiwick Sunday in the firm conviction luck charms were at least partly responsible for their 24-14 triumph over Winnipegs in the Western Rugby playoff concluded here Saturday.

"We tossed away our tiddlywinks and played football in the second half," shouted Coach Dean Griffins as he led his tired but jubilant Riders into the dressing room after the game. "Our luck charms did their work."

The Regina regulars had four-leaf clovers in their shoes and all the players wore twigs of genuine Irish heather. The boys were certain the charms helped them come from behind a 10-point series deficit in the second half when they scored 20 points without a reply.

Big Larry Hegan, Regina lineman, received the heather sprigs from a friend in Ireland with a note instructing that every player wear one. Twelve four-leaf clovers came from a Regina fan. "Put one in the boot on the right foot of each player in the starting lineup, and you can't lose," the instructions read.

AL SAVES CHARMS

Everything was in a roar in Riders' room after the game. Players all talked at once, ardent fans helped unlace shoes and the veteran strategist, Al Ritchie made sure the clover leaves were stored away for the game with Moose Jaw next Saturday.

"Nice going Fritz!" players slapped big Falgren, former South Dakota star, on the back. He made two touchdowns.

"A 'Peg player tipped the ball right into my arms," Chappie O'Connor said of his 100-yard touchdown dash in the last minute after intercepting a forward pass.

"I wasn't threatened as I broke away but Russ Rebholz, 'Peg's safety-man, was hard to get by and I was pretty tired when I crossed that Winnipeg goal-line. They tell me Fritzie Hanson was right at my heels."

"GREAT TEAM"

Griffing paid tribute to Winnipegs, who brought the Grey cup and Canadian championship to the west last autumn for the first time.

"Eddie James is one of the hardest-hitting ball-carriers I have ever had to stop. I regard Winnipegs as a better and stronger team than Nebraska Huskers of the United States Big Six. I played with Kansas State against Huskers several times and it was a "cake-walk" compared to 'Pegs."

Al Ritchie was the toast of the Regina camp. Before the game he predicted confidently Riders would win the series by 10 points. At half-time, with 20 points needed to realize his prediction, he gave the players a typical Ritchie pep talk that sent them into the stretch a fighting band of reckless, "never-say-die" gridders, who justified Al's forecast.

'PEGS SILENT

In Winnipegs' dressing room the players lazily and silently discarded their moleskins. They had no idea why they didn't get the "breaks." They hadn't heard of the clover leaves and heather.

Manager Frank Emma: "Roughriders are one of the greatest football teams Western Canada has ever known. It takes a great ball club to come from behind a 10-point lead and that's just what Riders did."

Coach Bob Fritz was broken-hearted. "There's nothing much I can say—the best team won."

Fritz Hanson was silent but took defeat calmly.

REBHOLZ CRIES

Captain Russell Rebholz, said to have played his last game for Winnipegs, was a pathetic figure.

"I lost the game for them," he said. Tears streamed down his sweat-streaked face as he spoke of his last quarter fumble resulting in a Regina touchdown.

Tempers Flare As Toronto Wins 2-1

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Nov. 2.—Minus their right wing big gun, Charlie Conacher, Toronto Maple Leafs scored the second straight win of their pre-season exhibition hockey tour by defeating Niagara Buffalo Bisons 2-1 here Saturday night. Conacher received an injured wrist in Friday night's victory over Detroit Red Wings at Windsor.

Tempers flared in the second period and the veteran Hap Day, Leaf defenceman, and "Pat" Patterson, Bison forward, finally came to blows. Both received major penalties.

Providence Wins

QUEBEC, Nov. 2.—Providence Reds, International - American Hockey League team, defeated Aces, newcomers to Quebec senior amateur group, 5-1, in an exhibition game here yesterday.

Champs Dethroned By Costly Fumbles In Freezing Cold

Riders Takes Series 24-14 in Brilliant Drive—Winnipegs Without Three Stars—Game Draws 5,500 Despite Bitter Weather

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2.—Regina Roughriders rode toward western rugby supremacy today over the humbled heads of Winnipeg's dethroned Canadian champions, defeated 20-5 here Saturday by the mighty Riders, who came spectacularly from behind a 10-point series deficit in the last half to win the two-game playoff 24-14.

F. Falgren

Great even in defeat, though three regular players were missing from the line-up, Blue Bombers took to the air in a valiant last-minute attempt to snatch victory, and two long forward passes put them on the Rider eight-yard stripe.

As 5,500 spectataors, jammed Osborne Stadium to capacity, tensed to the thrill of that last dramatic moment, a final pass by Captain Russ Rebholz slid off Bud Marquardt's chilled fingers and into the arms of Chappie O'Connor, Regina halfback, who eluded a lone tackler and ran from his own goal-line for a touchdown that ended the scoring and Winnipeg's championship rule.

Winnipegs won 7-4 in Regina a week ago and addition of two points earned in the Western Conference schedule had given them a 9-4 series lead.

WESTERN FINAL NOV. 14—

Roughriders move into Moose Jaw Saturday to meet Millers of that city, champions of the Saskatchewan Union, in a sudden-death semi-final. The winner will engage Calgary Bronks on the Alberta titleholders' home field Nov. 14 in the western final.

General opinion is Roughriders will drive successfully through both games. If so, Al Ritchie, Regina strategist, said after yesterday's game 'Riders will seek the national title.

FIVE RIDERS INELIGIBLE

Stumbling block to their participation in an East-West final is inclusion in the team of five players brought to Regina this autumn from United States and ineligible under the Canadian Rugby Football Union's one-year residence rule for "imports."

"Providing we win in Wetsern Canada, we will certainly play our American stars in the East-West final," Ritchie said.

"Whether or not the C.R.U. gives us permission to use our imports, we'll play the game if the eastern titleholders agree.

"No western team has objected to our use of the Americans and I feel thoroughly satisfied there will be no objection from any eastern team."

Rider players involved are Coach Griffing, Fred Ray, Fritz Falgren, Jim Lander and Louis Chumich. Other American players on the team have resided in Regina a year or longer.

COLD BRINGS FUMBLES

Freezing temperatures and a biting north wind chilled players and spectators alike here yesterday but the gridiron was firm and dry. Winnipegs were without playing services of Coach Bob Fritz and Greg Kabat, ace secondary-defence men, and Bill Ceretti, lineman, all benched with injuries.

Winnipeg ball-carriers weakened under the numbing cold and six 'Peg fumbles resulted, four being recovered by Riders. Bomber misplays led directly to all three Regina touchdowns, two by Fritz Falgren, ball-hawking outside wing. Riders fumbled but once.

First quarter was slow and ragged but the action started on the first play of the second quarter when Norton Freeman, former Hamilton Cubs halfback and outstanding Winnipegger, Saturday boomed a 60-yard punt to the deadline.

KICKS FORCE RIDERS BACK

With the wind behind him, Freeman outkicked Jim Lander, Regina quarterback, by a wide margin and Riders were backed into their own end of the field. Rebholz lined a pass 20 yards to Bud Marquardt, downed on Regina's 25-yard line, and from there Bert Oja booted a field goal from placement at a difficult angle to make the score 4-0.

With Regina again forced into their own danger zone, Ray eased the situation on a fierce plunge from which he broke clean and raced 42 yards to the Winnipeg 45. A bad snap by Griffing rolled 30 yards back to the Rider 25 and after punts were exchanged twice, Freeman kicked to the deadline on the last play of the half to give 'Pegs a 14-4 lead on the series.

FUMBLES START

Two minutes after the second half started, O'Connor, most dangerous Rider ball-carrier Saturday, ran a kick back 55 yards to the Winnipeg 35. An exchange of punts and Arni Coulter, veteran Winnipeg quarter, fumbled Lander's kick and Regina covered 25 yards out.

Ray moved the yardsticks with two plunges and Paul Kirk kicked goal from placement for Regina's first three points of the game. On the next play, with 'Pegs scrimmaging on their own 40-yard stripe, Riffing blocked Freeman's kick, Falgren scooped up the ball and ran for an unconverted touchdown. The game score was 8-5 for Regina.

Fritz Hanson, who failed to show his usual brilliancy on returning to the the Bombers after a two-weeks' layoff with injuries, tossed a forward pass which Andy Young intercepted and raced 25 yards into 'Peg terr'tory. Kirk's attempted field goal was wide, but Hanson was rouged for another Rider poin as the quarter ended.

BACKFIELD CRACKS

Winnipegs had a point lead on the series as they started the last quarter but the backfield cracked. Rebholz intercepted a Regina pass but passed to Eddie James and the "dynamiter" fumbled. O'Connor, who recovered, dashed 30 yards to the Winnipeg 25.

Kirk's attempted field goal was blocked partially but Rebholz, who took the ball in the corner, fumbled and Falgren pounced on the oval for his second touchdown. Kirk converted.

With five points needed to tie the series score, Rebholz fired a desperate aerial bombardment. Four bomber passes were incompleted but two successful tosses for 45 yards put the ball on Riders' eight-yard ribbon. O'Connor's interception of the final heave and his field-touchdown run ended the drive.

LINEUPS

A True Prophet

AL RITCHIE

famed football and hockey coach, who recently went back to his Regina Roughriders, although not as official coach, was right on the dot when he predicted a 10-point victory for Regina in the quarter-final with Winnipeg's champion Blue Bombers.

No Plans Made For Rider-Miller Game

MOOSE JAW, Nov. 2—No definite arrangements had been made last night in regard to the rugby tilt between Regina Roughriders and Moose Jaw's provincial champion Millers to decide the entry into the Western Canada playdowns.

An executive meeting was thought likely early this week.

Ball Veteran Dies

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—James "Deacon Jim" McGuire, 73, former Detroit Tiger baseball catcher, coach and scout, died at his Duck lake farm home, 10 miles north of Albion, yesterday.

McGuire began his baseball career in 1884 and played with Brooklyn, Washington and other clubs before joining the Tigers in 1902. He was also with Detroit in 1903 and for the next four years was backstop with the old New York Highlanders.

MINNESOTA WINS STEMMED—EAST RACE TIGHTENS

Gophers' Defeat Heads Big Upset List U.S. Grid

Brilliant Reign Ended As Wildcats Win 6-0 In Bitter Duel

By HERBERT BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Headed by Minnesota Gophers, the mighty fell in droves Saturday in the greatest succession of upsets this or possibly any other United States football campaign ever saw.

Stopped by Northwestern's Wildcats 6-0 in a spectacular duel fought before 47,000 in Evanston, Minnesota saw its national and big ten championship dreams exploded along with the shattering of the longest current winning streak in the game. The Gophers had won 21 games in a row and gone undefeated in 28 games since Michigan beat them in the final game of the 1932 season. A last quarter touchdown beat the Minnesotans.

PANTHERS SCORELESS

Fordham, conqueror of Southern Methodist and St. Mary's in its drive for possible rose bowl recognition, held Pitt's formidable Panthers to a scoreless draw.

Yale's opportunists finally found themselves over-matched and went down before Dartmouth 11-7.

Army was topped 14-7 by Colgate's red raiders. This amazing series of results left the east without a single major untied and undefeated team.

Another dizzy program in the southwest saw Texas A. and M. fold up before Arkansas' aerial barrage, 18-0, while Baylor was buried by Texas Christian 28-0. Southern Methodist had to come from behind to spill Texas 17-7.

HARVARD'S FEAT

Not the least of the day's surprises was Harvard's feat in holding Princeton to a 14-14 draw. Boston College handed Michigan State a jolt in the shape of a 13-13 tie.

Penn's powerhouse functioned perfectly in a 16-6 rout of Navy; Columbia withstood a fourth quarter rally by Cornell to win 20-13; Carnegie Tech bowed to Purdue 7-6, and Penn State whipped Syracuse 18-0.

In the midwest where Marquette remained undefeated and untied by virtue of a 20-6 rout of St. Mary's Gaels Friday night, Notre Dame outfought Ohio State 7-2 and Illinois spilled Michigan 9-6. Nebraska chalked up another big six triumph, beating Missouri 20-0.

HOCKEY LOOP SET FOR PLAY

Inter-City League Clears Up Final Dates at Olds

OLDS, Nov. 2—Final organization details for Alberta's six-team senior hockey circuit were completed at a meeting here Sunday. The loop was officially christened the Alberta Senior Six Hockey League. W. G. Harris of Edmonton was the unanimous choice of the meeting for vice-president.

The schedule was drawn and copies sent to each club for final ratification before their release on Wednesday.

The following slate of referees was also accepted: Referee in chief —Earl Overand of Okotoks; Archie McTeer, Gordon McFarlane and Pete Sande for Calgary; E. Jones and Geo. Watson for Drumheller; Sandy Hodgins for Olds; Barney Stanley, Art Townsend, Reg. Moon and Baldy Lynn for Edmonton.

Tennis Association Meeting Postponed

As the result of change in plans, the annual meeting of the Edmonton and District Tennis Association, scheduled to take place at the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening, has been postponed and will be held Thursday instead. All council members are requested to be on hand as many major problems are listed for discussion.

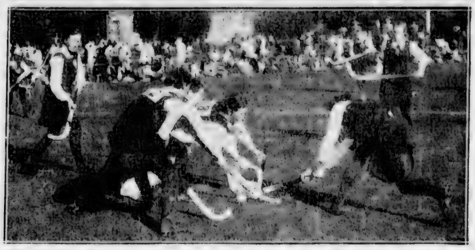
England Retains Hockey Crown



PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2—England retained her supremacy in world field hockey circles Saturday by drubbing Australia 6-3 to complete an unbroken string of six conquests in the International triennial tournament. The United States women, winning four and losing two games, finished second in the seven nation competition. South Africa's three wins, two losses and a tie gave it a third place tie with Scotland. In the above action photo England's goalkeeper [illegible] out for the ball in the midst of a group of attacking forwards. The picture was taken when England defeated South Africa 2-1.

Portsmouth Sets Pace In English, But Not Very Securely

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Three points ahead of the rest of the pack, Portsmouth dominates the English football league, but a bitter struggle finds 12 clubs below the southerners with only two points dividing them.

With these clubs so closely matched, Portsmouth's position is none too secure. The leaders could only draw 1-1 against Wolverhampton Wanderers on Saturday, although playing at home but they gained ground at the expense of Brentford and Huddersfield town who both lost.

LAST YEAR CHAMPS

The great strength of Grimsby town and Sunderland, champion last season, constitute a real threat for the pace-setters. Grimsby showed its scoring power by defeating Preston North End 6-4 while Sunderland was the only first division squad to win away from home. The champions defeated Manchester City 4-2 at Maine road.

Rain fell steadily throughout England and Wales and attendances were cut down. Total attendance at the 44 games in the four divisions of the league was cut 75,000 from last week to 604,000. The largest crowd was at Liverpool where the home team defeated the colorful Arsenal squad 2-1 to shove the Londoners into 17th place in the standing.

Lewis of Grimsby Town was the outstanding performer of the day getting four goals, as many as he obtained in the whole of last season's play. Morrison rammed home three for Tottenham Hotspurs in their 5-1 win over Bradford City.

The Portsmouth-Wolverhampton clash was a close struggle throughout with the home team coming from behind to share the points. Clayton put the Wolves ahead in the first half when Portsmouth's defenders seemed panicky. Confidence was restored when McCarthy put the teams on even terms but the home team could not score again.

Juvenile Hockey League Organized

The juvenile and midget hockey leagues were organized and teams given approval at the meeting held last Friday.

Four Juvenile and three Midget teams were entered. Henry White will be in charge of both Maple Leaf entries with ice at 96 street and Alberta avenue. Stan. Moher represented both E.A.C. entries and will operate at the 119 street rink. The Imperial Juveniles will perform at the Stadium under R. H. Williams. The Shastas, who operated as the Falcon Midgets last season, have stepped up to Juvenile ranks and will be in charge of H. Byers at the Stadium. The Royal Canadians will again operate a Midget team under Jerry Chamberlain at the 119th street ice.

Teams in both sections will be allowed to dress 13 players and an extra goalie if desired.

Ice will be available from 8 to 9 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week following the making of ice at the various city rinks.

Players desiring to try out with any of the teams will be welcomed by the various managers.

Further entries are needed especially from the South Side, where Pep Moon is expected to field a Juvenile team. Frank Adby and Tom Shivers are also expecting to enter teams.

Flooding Starts For Hockey Ice

You can dig up your ear-muffs and felt boots. Hockey is just around the corner out at the Arena.

Saturday the Crocketts, ice-makers par excellence, started flooding the big oval and by Monday morning a good foundation of ice was already down. If the weather continues cold, hockey ice will be ready by the end of the week giving Edmonton teams an almost even break with the clubs enjoying artificial ice at Calgary.

Scona Curling Club

A meeting of the Strathcona curling club executive members and skips will be held tonight in the club rooms at 8.00 p.m. Further plans for the season will be discussed and a full turnout requested.

Third Lanark Threatens Three Leaders in Scottish League

GLASGOW, Nov. 2—While the Scottish Football League championship seems destined—at this period at least—for either Aberdeen, Celtic or Glasgow Rangers, one other team that has shot into the spotlight recently, Third Lanark, will probably cause [illegible] to the favorites. The Cathkin [illegible] has been in the first 10 all season and today is riding on the crest of a four-game winning spree and tied for fourth position.

In eighth place last week, Third Lanark vaulted into a [illegible] with Motherwell with a hard-fought 1-0 decision over Hibernians at [illegible] Road. The Fir Park team muffed a chance to draw even with [illegible] Rangers when held to a 1-1 deadlock by Falkirk.

GAMES POSTPONED

Two games were postponed owing to calls for international [illegible] the Scotland-Ireland game at Belfast. Rangers and Hearts yielded three players and Hibernians one. As a result the Clyde-Hearts and Hamilton Academicals-Rangers affairs were set back to a later date.

After 14 weeks of play Aberdeen holds a fourpoint advantage over Celtic, three up on Rangers. The Dons have played 16 games, Celtic one less and the cupholders 13.

Aberdeen was called to defeat Albion Rovers at Pittodrie and came through with flying colors to the tune of 4-1. The score was not a true indication of the play, however, as the Rovers' goalkeeper was injured. Strauss gave the leaders a first-half lead and early in the second period made it 2-0. [illegible] and Armstrong netted before [illegible] got one for the visitors.

RED DEER BEATS MOUNT ROYAL 2-1

RED DEER, Nov. 2.—Red Deer high school rugby squad edged out a 2-1 victory over Mount Royal College team from Calgary, here on Saturday afternoon. With the score deadlocked and only a few minutes to play Sutherland booted to the deadline to give Red Deer the win. The game was a return in a series against the southern team. Mount Royal scored a 6-0 decision over the locals in Calgary a week ago.

Calgary—King, Teagle, W[illegible], Slotwinsky, Hill, Rowe, A[illegible], Hunter, Allbridge, Slipper, Green, McKenzie, Tuffts.

Red Deer—Carroll, Kennedy, Dillon, Sutherland, Gordon, Hamilton, Blickenstaff, Maveety, McCracken, Lowe, Hay, Sharman, Hogg, Hatford, Smith, Dunham, Trueman.

Referee: Tom Cornett, Red Deer. Judge of play: Hart Hill, Calgary. Linesmen: B. Long, B. Provo, Red Deer.

Olympic Criticism Will Be Discussed

TORONTO, Nov. 2—Criticism of the Canadian Olympic committee will be discussed at the annual meeting, held jointly with that of the Amateur Athletic Union in Regina, it was announced last night.

An official statement from the Canadian Olympic committee said: "Following publication of charges made by officials of the central Ontario branch of the A.A.U of C. against the Canadian Olympic committee, the latter body invited the central branch officers to attend a meeting of the Olympic committee executive Saturday for the purpose of amplifying their criticism."

Stanley Emerson Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Stanley L. Emerson, 58, president of Emerson and Fisher, Ltd., died in hospital here Saturday night. He came here from his home in Saint John, N.B. to enter hospital.

Mr. Emerson was manager of the Emerson and Fisher branch in Saskatoon prior to 1920. Mr. [illegible] married Frances Tanning of Regina. She died in Saskatoon in 1918.

SOCCER CORRECTION

Due to a fault in transmission there was an error in the second division of the English Soccer league result between Leicester City and Fulham. The score should have read Leicester 2, Fulham 0.

DAFFY DEAN IN SPOT FOR SALARY CUT

Bud Myer and Greenberg Also in Line For Slash In Pay

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. There was no obvious activity in the 16 major league baseball offices Saturday, but the club owners were calmly stirring up a hurricane of trouble [illegible] the [illegible].

They were working on the 1937 baseball salaries, an innocent looking mathematical procedure expected this year to involve some of the game's famous players in a few first class wrangles.

Generally based on the uncompromising arithmetic of the batting and pitching averages, salary cuts were expected for Paul Dean, Cardinals' pitcher, Buddy Myer, Washington's 1935 American league batting champion and Hank Greenberg, Tigers' long hitting first baseman, among others.

TOUGHEST SPOTS

These three appeared to be in the toughest spots. Myer won the batting crown with an average of .349. This year he cut that figure down 80 points and played only about a month. Greenberg hit .328 season before last, held out for more money last spring, and then broke his arm after playing 12 games. Paul Dean also came up with a bad arm and finished the season with five games won and as many lost. He was paid off for this on the basis of winning 19 and losing 12 the year before.

Bad news also appeared to be on the way for Arky Vaughan, the 1936 National League batting star, whose record .385 dwindled 51 points this season, Virgil Davis, Cards' catcher, who finished with a mark of .268, and Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, who is falling into [illegible].

RED SOX AGAIN

Nor does the National League have a corner on the bad news. In addition to Myer and Greenberg, a general shake-down was expected for the gold-plated Boston Red Sox, with an extra shake for Roger Cramer, whose 1935 average of .332 fell away to .291.

Montreal Trounces Boston Bruins 4-0

HALIFAX, Nov. 2 — Montreal Maroons whitewashed Boston Bruins 4-0 Saturday night in the fourth game of their Maritime tour preceding the opening of the National hockey league. The result evened the series at two wins apiece.

Bob Gracie set Maroons in the lead with a goal in the first period and a third-period offensive netted three more. Gracie figured in two of the third-period tallies, scoring one himself and feeding the puck to Gus Marker for another. Bill McKenzie scored the final one.

Bill Beveridge, substituting in the Montreal nets for Alex Connell, was unbeatable. He handled 37 shots.

Tigers, Argos Tied For First Place Honors

Sarnia Wallops Beaches for First Place Tie in Ontario Union

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—The eastern football situation is still a little muddled concerning selection of an eastern championship squad, not one team remains unbeaten and the race in all three major leagues is close.

Toronto Balmy Beach won their first two scheduled starts in the senior Ontario Rugby Football Union and took the lead, but they were beaten 16-13 by the Imperials at Sarnia Saturday and slipped into a first place tie with the Oilers. Ormond Beach and Mike Hedgewick scored Sarnia touchdowns, which were equalled by Ab Box and Sid Reynolds of Toronto. Imperials ticked off three singles through "Bummer" Stirling's kicking in the last quarter for their margin of victory.

WALLOP RIDERS

Overwhelmed in Ottawa a week ago, Hamilton Tigers walloped the Rough Riders 21-15 at Hamilton Saturday and climbed into a first-place deadlock with Toronto Argonauts in the Interprovincial Union. Ottawa made 11 of the 18 fumbles in the loosely-played game. Each side scored a couple of touchdowns and a field goal, but Huck Welch booted a succession of singles in the last quarter to build up a winning margin.

Indians gained another lease on life at Montreal by a [illegible] finish. The final whistle shrilled as Abe Eliowitz flung a flat forward pass from Argonaut 19 yard line and Tommy Burns snatched it and ran for the winning touchdown. Regulation time had elapsed, but Eliowitz booted the convert from placement to give the Montrealers a 14-12 victory. Superior backfield work brought Argos an early lead of 11-2 with a pair of touchdowns, but Davies went over for a Montreal touch to put the Indians in position for their winning pass play. The result left Indians and Ottawa tied for second place.

HEADS INTERCOLLEGIATE

University of Toronto lead the Intercollegiate group by two points, the only team in the east with first place to itself. The Blues smothered McGill University of Montreal 35-2 here Saturday with a polished exhibition of the forward pass. Varsity clicked with 12 of 25 throws and rattled off five converted touchdowns, a field goal and a pair of singles to whip the Redmen handily.

It was a bitter battle at London, Ont., where Queen's University of Kingston edged out a 3-1 victory over University of Western Ontario Mustangs and tied with them for second place.

Contract Bridge

By E. V. Shepard

MAINTAINING A PERFECT TENACE

Mr. Charles S. Lochridge, one of our greatest bridge experts, played the following deal at 6-Spades. As no able a player would do, before playing to the first trick he had made mental note of how each suit should be played, even to maintaining a perfect tenace at the tenth trick. The opening lead was the J of hearts.

♠ A Q 10 6
♥ K 8 6
♦ A Q 6
♣ A Q 3

♠ 9 5 3
♥ 7 4 2
♦ J 10 8
♣ 10 6 4 2

N. W. E. S.

♥ J 10 9 5
♦ 9 4 3 2
♣ K J 5

♠ K J 7 4
♥ A Q 3
♦ K 7 5

Bidding went: South, 1-No Trump, North, 3-Spades; South, 6-Spades.

Dummy's Ace of hearts won the first trick. Provided trumps broke a certain small slam could be made, by proper elimination of suits, if declarer left the ninth trick with the proper winner and provided he maintained a perfect club tenace at the end of the tenth trick. Details in advance often are of vital importance. Three trump tricks were run off, leaving a final low honor each side of the table.

Trumps had broken as hoped they would. Next declarer ran off his three tricks in diamonds, thereby eliminating a second suit. The eighth and ninth tricks were taken with his own K and dummy's Q of hearts, eliminating the third suit from his own and dummy's hand, leaving East with a long heart. On the third round of trumps east had discarded his lowest diamond, then he and his partner followed to three leads of diamonds, so that declarer knew definitely that East held one heart and three clubs at the end of the ninth trick. These things are important for declarer to know. At the end of the first nine tricks the holdings about the table were as shown below, without declarer knowing just what defensive clubs each opponent held.

♣ 10 6 4 2

N. W. E. S.

♥ 10

♠ J
♣ 9 8 7

Dummy was in lead. It made absolutely no difference which defender held any particular honor or honors so long as declarer played that suit properly. Dummy's 9 of clubs was led. Whether West covered with the 10 or not did not count. If West covered with the 10, declarer's Q must be played, otherwise the 9 must be allowed to run. East could win that trick with his J, in case West did not cover with the 10, or East could win the trick with his K, in case both 10 and Q went on the first club led. If West led back a club a perfect tenace in the suit was held to win the two next tricks. If East led back a heart [illegible] would ruff, and [illegible] would let go his low club, insuring a small slam.

Ahoy Reginettes!

"You gotta be a football hereo" might be a good theme for the above picture. It naturally brings to mind all the pretty Regina maidens who were waiting the return of their heroes, the Roughriders—Well maybe so—but this happens to be a family reunion, not a budding romance. June and Cherry Preisser, the eye-filling beauties planting the kisses, are welcoming their big brother Freddy, punter for Tulane. This was taken before a game with Colgate.

Tebo in Pink for Fight With Smith of Montana

Will Hold Final Workout Tonight—Grayson and McSporran Promise Brisk Battle In Semi-Final

With Jack Tebo arriving in the city on Saturday from Fairview and Ford Smith due to arrive from Kalispell, Montana, tonight, final details for the feature battle between Tebo and Smith here on Wednesday night are just about completed. It will be a 10-round fight to a decision and will headline a smart looking card of 32 rounds of professional boxing.

Fresh from a summer spent in the outdoors, Tebo looks to be in the pink right now. He has been training for this fight for several weeks. He will put in his final licks of preparation this evening at the Ring Boxing Club in the Emery hall on Jasper east. Smith will go through a light workout on Tuesday to get loosened up after his trip in from Montana.

This fight will be the first in a series that Promoter W. R. Wells and Matchmaker Fred Osborne are planning for the winter months. If Tebo can beat Smith, he will have a flying start toward bouts that may land him in the big tent. Smith was rated last summer as the fifth ranking fighter in his fight in the United States. He has an impressive string of victories and has been beaten only by such fighters as Carnera, Retzlaff and Al. Ettore.

Tebo is a rugged, hard-hitting scrapper who has piled up a flock of knockout victories in his campaigning which has taken him down the Pacific coast, over most of western Canada and into Montreal. He also scored a knockout over Steve Trojack, Winnipeg claimant of the Canadian heavyweight championship. He put the kayo on Trojack two years ago this month and Trojack did not fight again for five months. When Tebo kayoes 'em, they are generally well kayoed.

The semi-final bout promises a stirring battle between Gordon Grayson and Eddie McSporran. Both will weigh in at around 160 pounds and mix over an eight round bout. These boys have been showing a lot of class in their workouts during the past week and should hit a blistering pace.

The card will be staged in the Memorial Hall. Mike Cutcher's ring and wrestling seats will be used, converting the hall into a fight bowl in which every seat commands a perfect view of the ring. The ticket sale will open at Mike's News Stand today. There has been a brisk reservation of seats already and the promoters expect a first class crowd for the season's pro fight debut.

Prof. E. A. Hardy To Investigate Regina Imports

SASKATOON, Nov. 2.—Professor E. A. Hardy, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, last night had no comment to make about Al. Ritchie's statement that in the event of the Regina Roughriders winning the western rugby title he would take five "imports," now playing with Regina, to tackle the eastern champions in the Rey Cup final. Prof. Hardy said he would investigate the matter and issue a statement in a few days.

"There is no sense talking without having full information about the men concerned," the C.R.U. president said. Informed of the remarks by the bench manager of the Regina gridders, Prof. Hardy stated: "I don't doubt Al. made those statements and I am writing him for full details about the five men in question. Perhaps I should have foreseen the present state of affairs, but there was no use looking for trouble when it seemed Winnipegs were likely to win the western conference."

Gotham Sportsmen Dickering To Buy N.H.L. Americans

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A group of prominent New York sportsmen led by Pete Bostwick, millionaire steeplechase rider and Stewart Iglehart, whose father owns a steamship line, are negotiating to acquire control of New York Americans of the National Hockey League, it was learned Saturday.

A spokesman for the group has held two lengthy conferences with Owner Bill Dwyer, Sr., whose franchise has been declared forfeited by N.H.L. governors because of Dwyer's failure to meet a demand he liquidate debts.

The negotiations were practically at a stalemate because Dwyer refuses to agree to the group's stipulations that the Americans directors be revamped and Frank Patrick, of the noted hockey clan Patrick, be made managing director of the club.

Twins occur more frequently [illegible] than in Italy or Brazil.

Vancouver Athletic Defeated By 18-11

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2.—Vancouver Athletic Club Wolves today smarted under their first defeat of the 1936 British Columbia Big Four Football League schedule, an 18-11 decision they dropped to Meralomas here Saturday.

Police Court

Pleading guilty to charges of obtaining $9 credit by fraud and passing a worthless cheque for $4, E. J Skarlicki, 25-year-old Edmontonian, was sentenced to two months with hard labor on each charge by Magistrate A. H. Gibson in police court Monday. Sentences to run concurrently.

* * *

An 18-year-old Beverly youth, one of a group of 12, charged with destroying a school traffic sign at the corner of 118 avenue and 41st street on Hallowe'en night, was remanded in custody one day for sentence when convicted. The other boys will face the charges Tuesday.

Reserving his plea to two charges of indecent assault, Fred Zambrk, 44-year-old pedler, had his case set over until Wednesday at request of counsel.

Convicted on charges of vagrancy, George Ridgeway, 26, of Victoria, was given 48 hours to leave the city or go to jail for 30 days.

Joseph Allen, Sam Slutker, Patrick Bates and Gordon Mellish, charged with being drug addicts, reserved their plea and at the request of the crown the cases were set over until Wednesday.

A further remand until December 14, was granted Pureman Mayer, who pleaded guilty to eight charges of obtaining $227 from the relief department under false pretences. He must make restitution in the meantime.

Pleading guilty to eight charges of obtaining relief under false pretences, John Commen, was given one year's suspended sentence. He has made restitution.

Reserving his plea to a charge of theft of a bicycle, William B Turner, was granted an adjournment until Tuesday.

An adjournment until Tuesday, November 10, was granted Kathleen Woycheshon, charged with keeping a bawdy house. No plea was taken.

Daniel A. Puhach, former secretary of a town council in the St. Paul municipality was given a further remand of three months to make restitution of $159 converted by means of theft, forgery and uttering forged documents. He pleaded guilty.

MERCURY HITS ZERO LEVEL

With a forecast of "fair and cold" from the Highland weather station on Monday morning to add to the snow already on the city, the impression that winter is here is made very definite. Sunday's highest temperature was registered at noon, when the thermometer touched 20 above, while the lowest reading up to 9 a.m. Monday was zero, registered at 9 p.m. Sunday. By 9 a.m. Monday the thermometer had reached 6 above, after dropping from 13 above at 5 a.m.

Sub-zero temperatures were common in the near north, three points reporting readings under the zero mark at 8:30 a.m., the lowest of these being 6 below at McMurray. Ferries at Taylor and Dunvegan are running, while the Smoky and Smith ferries and the Slave Lake scows have stopped. The new highway at Slave Lake is not yet passable.

Mine Strike Is At Standstill

Mine workers at the Cadomin Coal Company, Limited, Cadomin, are still out on strike, according to W. J. Dick, general manager, who returned from Cadomin Saturday night.

"Leonard Stevens, an Edmonton mining engineer, was appointed as an independent arbiter to give a decision in the dispute between the company and the miners," Mr. Dick said.

"He gave his decision in favor of the company and the men refused to accept it. This makes the strike illegal.

"Things are at a standstill. We are not doing anything further."

NOTED SOLDIER OF CANADA ON VISIT TO CITY

Lt.-General Sir A. C. Macdonell is Guest of Senator Griesbach

Pioneer Mounted Police officer of Canada's west and noted Canadian soldier, Lieut.-General Sir Archibald Macdonell, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., arrived in Edmonton Sunday visiting places where he served with the famous "Riders of the Plains." He is the guest of Senator Major General W. A. Griesbach and Mrs. Griesbach.

Born in Windsor, Ont., of a family always active in the service of the nation, Sir Archibald was a student at Trinity College, Port Hope, and graduated from Royal Military College in 1886. After spending a short time in the Royal Artillery he joined the North West Mounted Police as an inspector. During his 17 years with the police he was interested in the solving of many famous cases, and took a prominent part in the capture of Almighty Voice at Batoche in 1897.

SERVED IN BOER WAR

He later went with a N.W.M.P. regiment to the Boer War, where he was given the rank of major. Wounded he returned to Canada and raised the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles. After the war he returned to Canada and continued with the police until 1907, when he joined the Lord Strathcona Horse.

In the Great War he served as brigadier-general and commanded the 7th brigade until Sir Arthur Currie's promotion as head of the Canadian Corps, when he led the first division. After the war he spent five years commanding the Royal Military College, Kingston, where he instituted many progressive reforms in the curriculum.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

The King's coronation is becoming leading news in England now. Interested parties are charging as high as 25 guineas for the privilege of using their property as vantage points during the great march. The London Times has complained that such excessive fees will serve to prevent many loyal subjects from being present on the historical occasion. It recommends that the government, which owns or controls four-fifths of the processional route should erect stands and then lease these seats at a nominal charge to all who wish to use them. Here are some opinions on this question garnered by the Bulletin Inquiring Reporter

WILLIAM CLARKE, druggist: The Times is right. The purpose of the coronaton is to enable as many loyal citizens of the Empire as possible to see His Majesty, not to enable a few sharpers to make money.

JIM WILSON, clerk: I believe it would be a fine idea to have the government intervene. It would be an unbearable humiliation to have the taint of commercialism associated in any way with the coronation march. If the stands were erected, in addition, the several nations of the Empire might secure guaranteed seating space, instead of having every visitor from overseas trust to luck as to getting a seat.

* * *

DON ROSS, student: I suppose most people will agree with the Times, but there is one thing to plead in defence of the private firms charging these high prices. The huge crowds that will gather at the procession will completely disrupt business for several days, and it is only fair that they receive some compensation for this inconvenience.

* * *

CHARLES MacGEE, merchant: Whenever there is a clash between personal profit and public duty I believe that the interests of the state must always receive first consideration. Many poor people are anxious to see the procession. It would be intolerable to have to make them stay away because they couldn't afford to pay the high prices for seats now being asked.

* * *

LILYAN GRAHAM, librarian: I am all for the government building these stands. Even if there will not be any attempt made to charge unduly high prices, some people will, none the less, blame the authorities for not supervising all the arrangements to prevent the possibility of any wrongdoing. The coronation procession, I believe, is too important an event not to be controlled from start to finish by the responsible ministers of the crown.

Japanese Hen Is Record Holder

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2.—Record of a Japanese hen in laying 360 eggs in one year, reported today from Tokyo, surpasses the mark of 357 eggs in 365 days equalled in 1933 by Dereen 10—L, British Columbia White Leghorn pullet which established its record at the dominion experimental farm at Agassiz, 70 miles east of here.

At that time, 357 eggs in a year was believed a world record.

KEEN INTEREST IN NEW SCHEME OF HOME LOANS

Five of Seven Edmonton Banks Have Already Received Applications

Considerable active interest is being shown locally in the new home improvement loan scheme under the National Employment Commission, according to Edmonton bankers questioned as the federal plan went into effect across Canada on Monday.

Five of seven banks questioned before noon Monday stated that already they had received applications for loans under the new plan. Two more said that although the machinery was ready to function no actual loans had been asked for Monday morning. However a considerable number of inquiries had been made at the end of the week. All were extremely hopeful of the plan and indications point to it being received with enthusiasm here.

Application forms arrived from Ottawa [illegible]

The improvement plan provides for a loan up to $2,000 for a maximum period of three years, to be paid back in monthly installments, at an interest rate of 6.32 per cent per annum. No other security than the home owner's signature is required for a loan.

Found Still Timid

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 2.—Modern women are just as timid as the primitive ones, according to Dr. Mary Roberts Coolidge, noted sociologist. "All reports to the contrary," she states, "most women continue timid and crave protection."

Eros is one of thousands of tiny planets, or asteroids, travelling around the sun in eccentric paths which lie between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. These tiny planets vary in size, with diameters of 30 miles up to 480 miles.

RED DEER, Nov. 2.—The beef cattle judging team of the Red Deer Calf club, Bob Cruickshank and Charles Eversole, won the district championship in that event at Lacombe this week. Other teams competing were from Lacombe, S[illegible] Valley, Grainger and Olds.

F. H. Newcombe, district agriculturist, Red Deer, trained the boys. Mr. Newcombe also trained the winning swine club team from Lacombe, John Morrison and Roy Henderson. Both teams will compete at Edmonton against other district winners from all over Alberta for the right to go to Toronto.

TIN CUPS FOR AUCTION SALE ALL VANISHED

RIMBEY, Nov. 2—C. F. Damron, auctioneer of this district, is scratching his head and trying to figure out what has become of the 1000 tin cups he has purchased during his career as a crier of public sales.

He now has exactly 30 cups left and the sad part of it is, according to Mr. Damron, that he must now pay $2.60 per dozen for the same grade of cups that he bought 28 years ago at $3.80 per hundred.

Out in the rural districts where the farmer holding the sale furnishes lunch and hot coffee at noon, it has been customary for the auctioneer to bring to the sale a couple of hundred tin cups for the customers' use.

The rattly flour sack had been a familiar object at the Damron sales for many a year

Sam Rimbey Is Out For Deer

RIMBEY, Nov. 2.—A party of young men composed of Jack McNevin, Roland Iddings, Norbert Becker and Harry Ellering left town early Thursday for a long trek out west into the game country for the opening of the game season on Monday

Many other parties are planning expeditions into the bush, and Sam Rimbey, veteran shot, is already on his way west. Mr. Rimbey, in spite of advancing years, never fails to get his quota and always has enlivening hunting yarns to tell when he returns.

Red Deer Fair Sees Surplus

RED DEER, Nov. 2.—Red Deer Agricultural society reports that it will have a small surplus on the year's operations in connection with staging the Red Deer fair. The society has operated at a loss for the past four years.

President Fred Turnbull will preside at the annual meeting of the society which will be held on Saturday, November 14. Walter [illegible], secretary-treasurer, will present the financial report.

FARMERS PLOWING

OPAL, Nov. 2.—Farmers are taking advantage of warm weather to get fall plowing and discing done. This will give them a start in the event of a late spring.

Today's Markets

Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Buyers flocked into the mining market today and reached for both base metals and golds.

Sherritt-Gordon hit 2.69, highest since 1931, but closed around 2.57, a gain of 17 cents. Pend Oreille advanced 17 cents to 1.20. Waite-Amulet gained about 15 cents to 2.30, Sudbury Basin hit a new high at 5.95, up 15 cents for the day. Ventures gained about 12 cents to 2.74 and the close was up for Noranda, Falconbridge and Mandy. Coast Copper advanced 75 cents.

Eldorado was up a few cents around 1.38. McIntyre at 41 was up more than a point.

Moneta, Gunnar, Red Lake Gold Shore and Hard Rock gained.

Toronto—Industrials

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Utilities and a selection of the steels led the Toronto industrial list in a moderate advance today. Walkers common and Canada Malting had the only gains in the beverage group.

Brazilian and Ford A closed fractionally lower. Shawinigan gained about 1½ to 27¾, a new high. Smelters added more than 2 points and Nickel a point. Bell Telephone, Beauharnois, B.C. Power A, Montreal Power and United Fuel pfd. also were strong. The B.C. issue was up nearly two points to a new high.

United Steel Corporation advanced about ⅜. Dominion Bridge hit a new high price and Hamilton Bridge common advanced while the preferred declined. Cockshutt was up a half point.

At Montreal

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Spurred by higher world copper prices, metals [illegible] to the front of today's stock market.

[illegible] points to 69⅞, highest of the present issue, while Nickel and Noranda firmed fractionally. Bathurst Paper and St. Lawrence Corp. preferred gained fractions.

[illegible] Hamilton Bridge preferred at 62, while Canada Cement and Dominion Steel ruled steady. Dominion Bridge firmed ¼ to 50¾, new high for the year or more.

Up a point or more to new peaks, were Canadian Hydro-Electric preferred, Shawinigan and B.C. Power. Brazilian sold off slightly while Montreal Power and Quebec gained about ½ each. C.P.R. eased.

At New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Buying in mining issues helped to stiffen a wobbly stock market today, although numerous leaders were in the losing column at the close.

[illegible] during throughout the session was attributed partly to the desire of traders to stand aside pending the re[illegible] balloting. Spread of the maritime strike was also [illegible] to have chilled sentiment [illegible]. Offerings were compara[illegible] throughout and transfers [illegible] 1,1[illegible],000 shares.

LATE BUYING HELPS WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2.—A last-minute rush to buy resulted in late rallies in wheat on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today after unconfirmed, private reports Argentina shortly would abolish the fixed minimum price for wheat had sent prices tumbling earlier.

Futures closed ¾-¼ cent lower, November at $1.07¾, December $1.05 and May $1.06¼.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Although shipments from the Argentine, Black Sea and India are smaller than last week it looks as though Canadian shipments will show an increase. The St. Lawrence ports are active loading and shipping wheat before the ports close towards the end of this month. There has been a decline in the lake freight rate as business is diminishing and stocks in the east are already substantial in preparation for the winter.

Titania's Fairy Palace Has Attracted More Than 4,000 Since Opening Here

"Oh, look, the tiny opera glasses! Do they really work, do you suppose?"

It was just another one of the enthusiastic comments that rise in a chorus about Titania's Palace where more than 500 children and adults have gathered each day since it opened for showing on the Fourth Floor of the Hudson's Bay Co. store, in aid of crippled children.

THOROUGHLY AWED

On being assured that the opera glasses really did work, and at both ends too, the little interrogator was thoroughly awed. But they were just another item among all the wonderful tiny treasures with which the palace is filled.

A most enthusiastic reception has been accorded the Palace since it opened in Edmonton, states D. V. Hicks, who is supervising its appearance in the city. Miss Hills and Miss Leslie, who have travelled with the Palace everyhere it has gone for the past two years say that never has it been received with more enthusiasm and appreciation than in Edmonton.

4,000 TO DATE

To date more than 4,000 men, women and children have seen the Palace and many have gone back two and three times, as they claim it is impossible to fully appreciate everything by just seeing it once.

The most favorable time to visit the palace, if one wishes to spend a longer time in looking at it, is in the morning, warn Miss Hills and Miss Leslie, as the crowds are greater in the afternoon. An exciting time is anticipated for Saturday morning and afternoon as last week more than 800 people saw the palace on that day and it is expected that an even larger crowd will visit it at the end of this week.

Only seven more days remain in which to see this exquisite miniature, for it will complete its showing in Edmonton on November 10, when it will be packed up to resume its journey around the world.

Exercise Care, Says Game Chief As Season Opens

Opening of the deer and moose hunting season on Monday brought from J. A. Hutchison, provincial game commissioner and assistant director of forestry a stern warning to hunters to "Be Careful."

With the crack of rifles resounding throughout the rural areas and the deadly nature of the projectiles, Mr. Hutchison appeals to all hunters to exercise the greatest care.

He recalls that regulations provide that all engaged in hunting expeditions must wear red coats and hats or caps, so as to make them easily distinguishable from the animals.

Hallowe'en! Not What She Uster Be

CALGARY, Nov. 2—Police and fire officials have [illegible] convinced today Hallowe'en isn't what it once was. Only one complaint was received at headquarters and firemen didn't answer a single false alarm. The thermometer stood near zero and a three-inch layer of snow covered the ground.

BRITONS RESCUE YANKEE CREW

LONDON, Nov. 2—Ten members of the crew of the United States freighter Bessemer City, in distress off the Cornish coast, were rescued early today by the St. Ives lifeboat.

The lifeboat returned to the vessel for 23 others understood to be on board.

The ship, which had grounded, was understood to be in no immediate danger.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 2.—Sixty passengers and the crew were removed from the B[illegible] steamship Mandol Saturday when it grounded at the mouth of the Kemaman river in [illegible] Malasia.

Fire Loss $9,000

MEDICINE HAT, Nov. 2.—Fire destroyed the club house of the Golf and Country Club here last night. The loss was estimated at $9,000, covered partially by insurance of $4,000.

IMPERIAL ORDINARY LIFE POLICY

DURING the first half of life there are lots of expenses for the married man with a family. His marriage, the purchase of a home, babies, doctors' bills, the children's education, taxes all take money. He is glad to pay, of course, but how can the average man meet all these and other obligations and still save enough money to take care of his home and family if he should die prematurely?

The answer is he cannot do so in the ordinary way.

Nevertheless there is a plan by which he can perform these duties a policy in the Imperial Life. The yearly deposit required for such a policy is very moderate. A man of twenty-five can secure a $10,000 policy for a premium of less than $15 a month. If he lives until his family is grown up and self supporting, his Imperial policy can provide a welcome fund or income for his own years of retirement.

If you have the impression that life insurance requires a large outlay of money, send your name and address today for particulars of Imperial Ordinary Life Policies
